Charter Group Gives Approval To 17 Sections

Commission Sets Up Procedure To Be Used In Removing Manager

The procedures to be used in removing a city manager were set up last night by the Marion City Charter Commission at its regular meeting in the YMCA.

Altogether 17 sections of the proposed city charter were tentatively approved.

A week ago the commission had been unable to decide how much time should elapse between the city council's statement of intention to remove the high city official and the actual deed. They had wanted to stipulate a time that would be fair to both the Council and the city manager.

30-Day Period

Last night the 12 members present of the 15-member commission agreed on this arrangement: Before the removal of the city manager the City Council must adopt a preliminary resolution setting forth the effective date of removal, which would not be less than 30 days after the first resolution. The city manager then would have seven days to ask for a written statement of the reasons for his removal and a public hearing on these charges prior to his dismissal. A two - thirds vote of Council would be required before the removal would become effective.

The proposed city solicitor would also have the right to a written statement and public hearing before dismissal, but the charter commission tentatively agreed not to specify time limits as it had done in the case of the city manager, because the solicitor is hired for a term of two years and the city manager is employed for an indefinite term.

Other Sections

Fifteen other sections were approved tentatively.

They included sections dealing with employee compensations and bonds, the city planning commission, discipline and removal of civil service employes, contracts, bids on contracts, adoption of ordinances and resolutions, style of ordinance, their amendment,

Treaty Debate Resumes, Fate Still Undecided

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate goes back to its lengthy debate on the Bricker proposal to curb treaty powers today with leaders pressing for final action on the thorny question this week.

The proposed constitutional amendment has been before the body for almost a month, although laid aside temporarily for some other business.

Republican Leader Knowland of California told newsmen he thought the Senate now was ready to dispose of the matter tomorrow or Thursday. He said considerable other legislative business is piling up.

Up for consideration today is an amendment offered by Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) to his own original proposal, which drew strong opposition from President Eisenhower.

Bricker now proposes to write into the already-revised resolution a provision that a treaty or other international agreement cannot become effective as domestic law unless Congress passes legislation on it, or unless the Senate so provides by a two-thirds vote in ratifying a treaty.

This is a substitute for a broader provision which was knocked out in Senate voting last week. But even the milder version seems doomed.

Dulles Defends Decision

Doubt Cast on Red China Role in Talks

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles came out today for round 2 in his fight to win Congress to his view that this country more than held its own at the Big Four meeting in Berlin.

He arranged to meet with the House Foreign Affairs Committee and presumably he planned to take the same line he adopted in briefing key Democratic and Republican congressional leaders yesterday; that U. S. agreement to seat Red Chinese delegates at an April conference in Geneva on Asiatic peace problems does not mean that U. S. recognition of Red China is in the offing.

Meanwhile, there was one indication that Dulles had failed to quiet all the doubts in the minds of the lawmakers with whom he talked for 90 minutes in his office yesterday.

Sen. Knowland of California, the Republican Senate leader, said in a New York speech last night he has "substantial" misgivings about the decision of the Big Four foreign ministers to invite the Chinese Reds to the Geneva conference, despite Dulles' assurance on the recognition question.

The Californian also objected to discussion of Indochina unless representatives of the affected states are on hand and enjoying an "equal voice."

Later Dulles issued a formal statement that "there would be no U. S. recognition of the Chinese Communist regime." He said this country had obtained Russian agreement on this "so efforts to unify Korea and promote peace in Indochina could proceed without changing the U. S. basic position on China."

Knowland said that when Dulles comes before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee tomorrow he will be asked, among other things, "what price is expected" to be paid" for a free and united Korea. Knowland is a member of that committee.

Knowland said the presence of the Chinese Communists at Geneva could be justified in discussion of a possible peace settlement in Korea, since the Reds fought in that war.

Probers Given More Data on Security Firing

House Group Told 291 on List Received Other Federal Posts

WASHINGTON (AP)—Eleven State Department employes released in 1953 were suspected loyalty risks, and out of 590 let go as "security risks," 291 got jobs in other federal agencies.

The statistics were contained in testimony made public today by the House Appropriations Committee, whose Democratic members have been insisting in budget hearings that all departments specify how many of their security cases were actually adjudged subversive. Democrats have claimed that the vast majority of the 2,220 federal employes fired or resigned under the Eisenhower administration security program were let out for reasons other than suspected disloyalty.

To date, the committee has made public complete or partial breakdowns by seven agencies of their security dismissals. With approximately 761,500 employes, these departments have accounted for 1,058 security dismissals or resignations in 1953. Forty of these were listed as suspected or actual subversives. Causes of dismissal of the others included drunkenness, homosexuality, over-talkativeness, and incompetency.

The State Department's statistics were given by R. W. Scott McLeod, administrator of security.

He said that 21 employes had been discharged for cause, including 11 with "pro-Communist activities or associations" such as having relatives who were Soviet nationals. Seven of the 11, McLeod testified, had charges pending against them when the Republican administration took office.

Public Support Sought by GOP In Tax Cutting

Democratic Attacks Alarm Party; Address By President Proposed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican congressional leaders are looking to President Eisenhower to help bolster public and congressional support for the administration's beleaguered tax program.

Some GOP congressmen already have discussed the prospect of a presidential broadcast to the nation with administration officials, it was learned today. Informed sources said no decisions have been made.

Some Republican legislators have expressed concern over almost daily Democratic attacks declaring the Eisenhower program gives too many tax cuts to business and doesn't benefit the average taxpayer enough.

Democratic leaders are firmly predicting enactment of Democratic proposals for an increase in individual income tax exemptions, which would spread the biggest tax reductions among large family and low income groups. They argue this would boost consumer purchasing and help pull the nation out of its current economic dip.

Their various proposals would save taxpayers—and cost the government—from 2½ to 4½ or more billion dollars the first year, and possibly more later. They also would increase the prospective federal deficit by that amount.

FBI Informer Interrogated By McCarthy

Woman Claims Army Signal Corps Employe Carried Party's Card

WASHINGTON (AP) — A former FBI undercover informant testified today she had known as a dues-paying, card-carrying Communist a woman who Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) said now is handling "top secret messages" as an Army code room employe.

Mrs Mary Markward, the FBI informer named the Army employe as Annie Lee Moss

Mrs Markward testified at a public hearing called by McCarthy's Senate investigations subcommittee.

Names Annie Lee Moss

Mrs Markward told the subcommittee that as a former Communist party official here she had known Annie Lee Moss as a Communist party member, At the time, she said, the woman was a cafeteria worker in the Pentagon,

McCarthy a moment before said the woman whom Mrs. Markward was to name is, according to the subcommittee's understanding, now working in the code room of the Army Signal Corps, "handling top secret messages."

McCarthy is embroiled in controversy with Secretary of the Army Stevens over McCarthy's charge the Army has "coddled Communists."

Stevens was once scheduled for a face-to-face meeting with the committee today on the issue, but McCarthy deferred the session until Thursday.

Instead, McCarthy decided to go into this case which he described as that of an "alleged Communist" in the Pentagon's "decoding room."

'No Surprise'

Convening the hearing, McCarthy said the testimony he was about to take should come as "no surprise" to the Army because "the Army had the same information months ago."

McCarthy said the inquiry has nothing to do with his blasts at the Army for honorably discharging Maj. Irving Peress, now a practicing dentist in New York McCarthy has called Peress a "fifth amendment Communist" Peress termed the McCarthy charges "sheer nonsense"

It was the Peress case that touched off a barrage of charges and counter charges between McCarthy and Stevens over the weekend.

Bus Company Seeks To Cut Service Here

Council Authorization Asked To Halt Runs At Night, on Sunday

A request of the Marion Transit Co. that it be allowed to discontinue evening and Sunday service in Marion was presented Monday night to Marion City Council.

The request, made by Floyd Kreisel, company president, was forwarded by Robert G. Haldeman, councilman - at - large and chairman of Council's utilities committee.

Unprofitable Runs

He said it was his understanding that the bus company is losing money on its daily runs after 6:30 p.m. and on Sundays. Neither Kreisel nor Wilbur Poorman, company business manager, was present for the meeting.

Haldeman explained that Kreisel told him a survey by the company showed only three per cent of the income was derived from evening and Sunday runs. Operating costs during these periods are 13 per cent of the total costs of operation, Kreisel told Haldeman.

While the utilities committee had no recommendation, members felt that some service was needed on Sunday for church goers, Haldeman added. He suggested Council go along with the bus company as much as possible on the request.

Some Objections

There were some objections to the proposal. James C. Jenkins, Second Ward, said he felt the company "might as well go out of business" as to cut service further. Richard E. Lister, at-large, was opposed to further reduction of service and suggested a board of directors might be formed by major creditors of the bus company to advise Kreisel in the operation of the company.

Discussion was stopped by a motion of Harold Smith, First Ward. He moved Council vote on whether to bring in legislation at the next Council meeting which would grant the request for curtailed service.

Motion Favored, 5-4

Council voted 5-4 in favor of bringing in the legislation. Voting against the motion were Jenkins, Lister, Warren Diehl, at-large, and Harold Fralich, Sixth Ward.

To be prepared and submitted to Council March 8 by City Solicitor George A. Piacentino, the legislation will provide that bus sevice be discontinued after 6:30 p.m. on week days and that hours of service on Sunday be from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Present bus service is from 5 a.m. to 11:30 p.m. each week day and from 6 a.m. to 11:30 p.m. on Sundays.

Campaign for Traffic Study Funds Launched Anew Here

$10,500 Is Needed; Drive Slated To End in Spring

A campaign to raise funds for a master traffic and grade crossing survey in Marion is scheduled for completion early this spring

Decision to wind up the drive as quickly as possible—possibly by March 22—was reached at a meeting of a newly-formed joint traffic committee of the Chamber of Commerce held Monday noon at the Harding Hotel. The campaign began in September.

ESTIMATED AMOUNT STILL needed to put the campaign over the top is $10,500. Total cost of the survey is estimated at $20,000. Previously City Council set aside $6,000 as its share of the cost and the Marion County commissioners agreed to supply $2,000. Both of these commitments were made on condition the balance of $12,000 be collected by public subscription.

So far, some $1,680 has been collected by a citizens committee formed last fall to conduct the public subscription drive, John V. Ruth, chairman, reported. Expenses used about $180 leaving a total of $1,500, he said

First step approved by the new committee to complete the campaign will be a city-wide solicitation of some 400 business places.

The solicitation will be made by about 40 committeemen. Each will be supplied a list of 10 businessmen to contact for donations. These lists are being prepared by Ruth who reported they will be completed and ready for distribution by tomorrow. The solicitation is to begin immediately.

THIS PLAN was approved by the approximately 35 traffic committee members who attended the meeting. The committee membership is 60. Chairman is A. F. Busch.

Need for an early wind-up of the fund campaign and a resultant early start on the traffic survey was pointed out by speakers at the meeting.

They were Ruth, Hugh E Webster, Chamber of Commerce secretary, and Floyd G. Browne of Browne and Associates.

Ruth gave a report of activities of the citizens committee since its formation last August He said little had been accomplished. "We have no alibis or apologies but we do think right now is the very best time to spark up and put the drive over," he said.

MOST OF THE $1,500 raised by his committee was collected by two of six divisions, he said. These were the retail merchants divisions, which had raised 55 per cent of its $2,000 goal, and the professional men and women division, which raised about 30 per cent of its $1,000 goal.

Other divisions and their goals listed by Ruth were clubs and organizations, $1,000; government workers, $1,000; industrial workers, $4,000, and industrial corporations, $4,000.

He said activities of the citizens

Chinese Reds Slay Millions, Official Says

Assistant Secretary Of State Testifies On Huge Death Toll

WASHINGTON (AP) — Asst. Secretary of State Walter S. Robertson has told Congress the Chinese Reds, in "just about the bloodiest pattern that the Communists have followed in any country in the world," have killed about 15 million of their own people since 1949.

Robertson, whose province is Far Eastern affairs, attributed this huge death toll to liquidations and government-ignored starvation.

In testimony in the State Department's budget request, made public by the House Appropriations Committee today, Robertson said the department anticipates in Asia for the foreseeable future "emergencies, crises and problems of the greatest importance and magnitude."

He made these other main points:

1. A basic American strategy is to keep powerful Chinese Nationalist forces on Formosa as a constant threat of American-supported military action against Red China.

2. On the mainland "there is a deep undercurrent of unrest and resentments that would be glad to follow some other leadership if it had the chance."

3. New outlets must be found for Japanese trade, including more access to American markets, "or we will inevitably throw Japan into the Communist orbit."

4. For an indefinite period "we

Arson Claimed At Sternbaum Murder Trial

Special Investigator Heard, Believes Fire Was Fed by White Gas

MANSFIELD, Ohio (UP)—A special fire investigator testified today he believed the burned building in which the body of Mrs. Leah Sternbaum was found was set afire and that the fire was fed by white gasoline.

The testimony from Edward L. Hughes, special agent for the National Board of Fire Underwriters, came in the first-degree murder trial of E. Max Sternbaum who is accused of killing his wife and setting fire to his supermarket office where her body was found.

Began Probe Dec. 8

Hughes, a former FBI agent, testified he began his investigation Dec. 8, 1952, four days after the body of Sternbaum's 31-year-old wife was found. The most-burned spot in the supermarket office building was in the vicinity of the body, he said.

Hughes added he found a number of mysterious purple spots on the floor and walls of the room where the body was found. He offered no theory of what caused them.

And, Hughes added, he could find no record of any fire insurance issued on the supermarket office by any of the 175 member firms of the board of fire underwriters.

Prosecution Claim

Earlier, Mrs Louis Morris, secretary of a Mansfield jewelry firm, identified a sales slip covering, she said, Sternbaum's purchase Nov. 19, 1952—two weeks before his wife's death—of a $25 combination cigarette case and lighter.

The prosecution is attempting to prove Sternbaum clubbed his wife

Fresh Anxiety Voiced for Pope

VATICAN CITY (UP)—Pope Pius was reported today experiencing renewed difficulty in taking food and anxiety increased over his health.

Vatican sources said the 77-year-old head of the Roman Catholic Church has had more difficulty during the past two or three days in taking food.

The pontiff has been suffering for more than a month from a gastric ailment whose nature has never been definitely disclosed, if it is definitely known.

In the most recent announcement on his health, the Vatican press office said it was hoped the Pope might soon be able to take all his nourishment orally.

Ferguson Asks Curb on Talk Of Depression

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich) said today Democratic talk of a business recession is hurting the country and ought to be stopped.

Ferguson, who heads the Senate GOP Policy Committee, spoke out after former President Hoover had discounted the possibility of a depression and Democratic National Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell had said reaction of the pocketbook nerve is likely to determine control of Congress in November.

"I don't think there is going to be any recession but I must say the propaganda for it is much more effective than I had anticipated it would be," Ferguson said in an interview

"All this talk is persuading some people not to buy. And when they don't buy an article, somebody who is making it loses his job"

Hoover told the American Good Government Society here last night that as a man who had had one depression named for him he thought he could say with good authority there are no signs on the landscape of any big depression now.

Observing that economic dips occur about every five or seven years in free enterprise systems, Hoover added:

"You can have high confidence that this is only a passing dip, a slump, a readjustment or a recession, not a great depression."

Marion Lions Club Members Hear 3 Talks

Crusade for Freedom, Engineers' Week and YMCA Are Discussed

Talks on the Crusade for Freedom, National Engineers' week and YMCA principles were heard yesterday noon at the regular meeting of the Marion Lions Club in the "Y."

Ed Paulin, radio announcer at WMRN, presented the civic club with a freedom scroll and asked the members to sign it. The signing of the freedom scroll is part of the national Crusade for Freedom. Individuals and club members all over the nation are being asked to sign the scroll this week.

Purpose of Campaign

Paulin said that no money is asked along with the signature; it means simply that the person signing supports the Crusade for Freedom. He went on to explain that the names will be read from time to time over Radio Free Europe, which is operated by the Crusade, in hopes that one name or names from a certain locality will induce some Communist in an Iron Curtain nation to break away from his masters.

Sixty-three members of the club signed the scroll.

In his talk, Charles Whysall, representing the Marion Chapter of the Ohio Society of Professional Engineers, said that National Engineers' Week is different from all other "weeks" in that it has no "ulterior motive." He said the week is designed to do a "badly-needed" job of telling people about the "thousands and thousands" of ways in which engineering affects them and their daily lives.

Contributions Cited

Whysall said it was not likely that the average person would have occasion to hire an engineer, yet "everything we eat, drink, wear, or use has been touched, not once, but many times, by engineering."

The speaker elaborated on this point, showing how engineers have taken the drudgery out of housework, provided us with entertainment, contributed to the national defense, aided communication through radio and television research, and helped us live longer.

"It cost a very large sum of money to produce the first pound of penicillin. The drug's life-saving possibilities were appreciated from the first, but to produce it in huge quantities at prices average people could afford to pay—was an engineering job." Whysall went on to say that the engineer is a kind of "middle-man between the medical researcher and the public." •

More Engineers Needed

In conclusion Whysall appealed to the Lions Club members to encourage young people to enter engineering as a profession. He said there is a severe shortage of young engineers. "In few other careers will he find more opportunity, more challenges to be of constructive service to mankind," Whysall concluded.

"Winding up the program, Art Haas, executive secretary of the YMCA, told of "Y" work both locally and internationally, and Marvin J. Ludwig, youth secretary of the organization, explained "Y" principles.

Judson Kerr was introduced as a new member of the club. Jack Bray, Bud Skinner of Lima, Joe Lawrence, and James Larsen were guests.

committee was concentrated on completing the solicitation of retail merchants and professional businessmen and women.

WEBSTER EMPHASIZED the necessity for obtaining a master traffic plan for the city as quickly as possible. He reported that he attended a conference of Ohio Chamber of Commerce executives at Columbus over the weekend at which the state-wide traffic problem was the main topic.

Top speakers at the conference explained that no community could expect to obtain state or federal aid on traffic problems until it completed a master traffic plan, he said.

Among the speakers were S. O. Linzell, state highway director, Clingan Jackson, chairman of the state highways construction council, and Roger Cloud, chairman of the House public affairs committee.

Floyd Browne explained the organization of the committee and also discussed the need for the traffic survey.

HE SAID the citizens committee formed last August was an offshoot of a long-standing Chamber of Commerce grade crossing elimination committee. This committee had been primarily concerned with grade crossing elimination and four years ago made a detailed study of this problem.

At that time it was determined the city, state, and federal governments and railroad companies could share in the cost of the project, he said. Total cost was estimated at that time at some $20-million.

It was also learned that before any such large scale project could be approved for state and federal aid a complete survey must be made and a master traffic plan developed.

Dayton has had such a plan completed for some time and has now been allocated about $15 million, he said. It is his understanding that 30 per cent of a $500-million highway improvement bond issue voted for last November by Ohioans will be spent for improving highways through and around municipalities.

WHEN THE CITY commits itself to develop the traffic plan, the state will step in and assist by making a separate origin-and-destination survey on all arterial highways in the area and will provide needed aerial photographs, he said.

It is essential for Marion to complete its master plan as quickly as possible if the city expects any of the state bond issue to be used to help solve local traffic problems, he said.

Other suggestions were made at the Monday meeting by Ruth, Busch and others for raising the balance of the necessary $20,000.

They included formation of a traffic boosters club, a "white elephant" rummage sale, mail and telephone solicitation of all automobile owners in the city and township, setting up of a booth with an attendant near the deputy state automobile registrar's office on Court St. during March, and a house-to-house canvass.

The car struck and killed a cow which had wandered into Beasley's traffic lane, causing extensive damage to the front of the car. A wrecker had to remove the car. Beasley was not injured.

The cow was owned by Ferd B. Lawrence of near Marion.

Elevator Advice Sought by Officials

Marion County commissioners this morning were planning to seek legal advice regarding Saturday's ruling of the Third District Court of Appeals upholding a local order that they install an elevator in the Courthouse.

Meeting in regular session today because of yesterday's legal holiday, commissioners reported that they had attempted to discuss the situation with Prosecuting Attorney Ralph E. Carhart but had learned that he was busy in a Common Pleas Court action today.

Common Pleas Judge Paul D. Smith ordered the elevator after a hearing on a motion filed by a committee from the Marion County Bar Association. After a tax levy for the elevator was defeated in November, commissioners appealed the order to the Court of Appeals.

Byhalia, York Center Residents Mop Up After Twister Strikes

BYHALIA—Residents around Byhalia, Sumersville and York Center in the northern part of Union County are mopping up the effects of a twister which swept this area Saturday night.

Farm buildings were shattered or picked up from the ground, livestock was killed, electric lines were knocked down and trees were ripped up, all within a few minutes about 9:30 p.m. Saturday. Traffic was blocked for some time on Route 739.

Cow, Calf Killed

At the R. N. McGinnis farm, located midway between Byhalia and York on Route 739 at least one cow and a calf were killed when the strong wind shattered a large barn. The family's dog, a rat terrier, which had been sleeping in the barn was found dead in the ruins.

In this area the high wind first struck the Clyde Fields farm, about a mile and a half from the McGinnis home tearing down a tool shed and chicken house and damaging the barn.

According to Mrs. McGinnis, the wind apparently struck their farm next, then continued on to the farms of Ed Simpson, where it leveled a hen house, and Arnold Wiley, where trees were knocked down, a hog house was leveled and a brooder house considerably damaged. The storm then hit a farm owned by Mrs. Effie Drake, where it picked up a barn and scattered pieces of it some three miles away.

Find Barn Destroyed

Mrs. McGinnis said they were in Marysville attending the basketball tournament at the time the storm hit. When they returned to their farm, they found the barn, valued at $15,000 had been shattered and toppled over onto a metal milk truck. Cement blocks which formed the lower six feet of the barn's walls and 30 tons of hay and straw which had been in the barn were tossed around the barnyard.

The wind shattered the roof of the granary, picked up a metal trough used to feed cattle from the field, carried it over the hen house and dropped it in the barnyard The hen house, which Mrs. McGinnis said was none too stable, was not damaged by the wind. Tractors, mowing machines and plows inside the barn were damaged, while the top of the milk truck parked nearby was caved in.

Electricity was shut off for almost a five-hour period at York Center, Byhalia and Sumersville as a result of the strong wind and traffic was blocked on Route 739 by falling trees.

Y Men Hear Talk On YMCA Outposts

Juvenile Judge Edward J. Ruzzo addressed members of the Y Men's Service Club Thursday on the possibility of setting up YMCA "Outposts' in the city.

He explained the program would provide additional recreation facilities and guidance.

Marvin Ludwig, YMCA youth secretary, explained that the program had been set up in several other cities and had been successful.

Charles Turner, co-chairman of the project committee, is investigating the possibilities of an outpost here.

Bob Higdon was appointed chairman of a club ice skating team to play another service club at a Marion Barons hockey game.

Guests at the meeting were Jim Farley, Del Ault, Frank Belville and Jim Elken.

$76,800 Suit For Damages Filed in Court

A $76,800 damage suit has been filed in Common Pleas Court against a Marion man by the widow of a Marion County man who died Oct. 6, 1953 from injuries sustained in an automobile accident on Route 4, south of Marion.

Filing the suit was Mildred A. Rouse, administratrix of the estate of Glen R. Rouse. Named defendant in the action is Merle V. Kirk of 418 Girard Ave.

Vehicles driven by Rouse and Kirk were heading north on Route 4, about 12:10 a.m. on Oct. 6, when the Kirk car struck the Rouse car, causing Rouse to be thrown from his car onto the pavement, the petition states.

Kirk's car then continued northward, running over Rouse who was caught under the Kirk car and dragged approximately 90 feet before Kirk came to a stop, the petition alleges.

Rouse died about three hours later at Marion City Hospital. Surviving in addition to Mrs. Rouse is a seven-year-old son, Daniel.

Representing the plaintiff is the law firm of Guthery, Harmon, Conkle and Gracely.

Runaway Boys Stopped Here By Authorities

Two 15-year-old runaway boys from the Columbus Bureau of Juvenile Research are in custody of Union County officials after being picked up early this morning in Marion County.

The boys were picked up at the home of a relative of one of the boys residing in the county about 2:30 a.m. by a Marion County sheriff's deputy, Union County Sheriff Walter Galloway, and a Marysville policeman.

Local authorities received a state message at 6:30 p.m. Monday that the boys had left the juvenile center about 6 p.m. According to information given by the boys after they were picked up, they hailed a cab in Columbus and asked to be taken to Marysville.

After arriving in Marysville, the boys "jumped" the Columbus cab, and soon after hired a Marysville cab asking to be taken to Marion. They told the Marysville driver that their "car had broken down."

As soon as they arrived in Marion, they re-enacted their two previous "jumps" and hired a third cab, asking to be taken to the relative's home in the county.

When this third cab approached County Road 45, the boys again "jumped" it and proceeded on foot to their destination.

After receiving a complaint from the Columbus cab driver, Union County authorities came to Marion where they were joined by the local deputy in their search. Tying together the state message on the boys' escape and the cab experiences, they checked the relative's residence where they locatd the boys.

Sternbaum

to death with a wrench because of an extra-marital love affair, then set fire to his office to cover up the slaying. Sternbaum insists he and his wife were set upon by robbers.

Miss Margaret Rozenman of Tiffin, formerly of Columbus, has been subpoenaed to testify this afternoon, but there was some doubt prosecution attorneys would call on her before tomorrow. The prosecution referred to her in its opening statement as the "other woman."

Testimony yesterday was limited to 10 minor witnesses.

One of them, Pvt. Donald Mayer of Mansfield, now stationed at Fort Bragg, N. C., was driving a truck for the Sternbaum grocery company Dec. 4, 1952, the night 31-year-old Leah Sternbaum's body was found in the ashes of a fire which destroyed the supermarket office building.

Mayer said he parked his truck in back of the building that night. When he returned the next day, he testified, the truck's glove compartment had been ransacked.

The prosecution claims Sternbaum clubbed his wife to death with a wrench because he was in love with another woman, setting fire to the building to cover up the murder.

Sternbaum says his wife stopped at the office to drive him home. He claims burglars attacked both of them and set fire to the building.

Mayer testified he kept a tool chest under the front seat of the truck but said nothing was missing from it.

Shown the so-called murder weapon, Mayer said he never had seen it before. He added a wrench was not part of the equipment normally carried in the truck's tool chest.

The jurors were given earphones to listen to a recording of Sternbaum's statement to investigators four days after his wife's death.

Thousands Watch Fire Fatal to Four On TV in Louisville

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UP) — Three persons died and four others were injured seriously last night in an apartment building fire viewed by thousands on their television sets.

The dead:

Arthur Lee Chapman, 42, killed jumping from the building, and Edith Dalbow and Ernest Richmond, both of whom were found inside the burning building.

Other residents of the three-story structure near downtown Louisville escaped without injury.

The fire, diagonally across from the WAVE-TV building, started at 11:25 p. m. and was brought under control an hour later.

Soon after the blaze broke out the television station rolled its cameras to the window and provided its viewers with a first-hand account.

Cause of the blaze was not determined.

Boy, 5, Speechless After Touring City Streets While Lost

A five-year-old Marion boy who made a wrong turn and took a long walk was left "speechless" yesterday afternoon after Marion police escorted him safely home.

Gary Mauk, son of Dr. and Mrs. Harry Mauk of 378 S. Main St., became lost while in a downtown dime store with an older boy and another boy his own age late Monday afternoon.

Apparently giving up finding the other two boys, Gary walked out of the store and turned left on W. Center St. rather than east toward Main St. and home.

Sometime later, firemen at the W. Center St. station saw him walking along "looking lost" near the Marion Power Shovel Co. offices and told police.

Police arrived at 5:17 p.m. and could find no trace of Gary. Nine minutes later they found him in front of the Central Fire station on S. Prospect St. They asked his name and escorted him home.

Dr. Mauk said the experience left Gary speechless and he said nothing about his travels.

Charter

authentication and publication, emergency legislation, and council rules. All but one are similar to provisions included in the present form of city government. This section set up the office of assistant city solicitor, with duties similar to the present police prosecutor's.

However, all discussions at last night's session did not result in agreement. Decisions were temporarily shelved on the city civil service setup and on who would appoint members of various city boards and commissions.

Appointments Discussed

Earlier in the meeting, commission members had approved the existing arrangement of the city planning commission on the grounds that it is operating successfully. Then, in discussing the civil service board, it was discovered that members of both groups, as well as members of other civic boards, were appointed by the mayor under the present form of government.

It is the charter commission's intention to establish a city manager form of government. Under this system the mayor has few duties other than those of councilman. Some members of the commission believed it was inconsistent with the city manager plan to have the mayor make such appointments. Final decision was delayed, however, until a later meeting.

The problem of who would be under civil service regulations was likewise shelved for later discussion and decision.

Civil Service Report

The bulk of last night's deliberations centered around an oral report by Lawrence Sager and George Jonsson, who had been appointed two weeks previously to investigate the efficiency of the present city civil service system.

The report, made by Sager, was critical of the lack of knowledge, of civil service rules. He said there seemed to be some doubt as to who came under civil service — except police and firemen — or even what ordinances pertained to the system. The best the committee had been able to find was a 1912 ordinance setting up the civil service commission, Sager said.

This ordinance was very "vague," Sager said, but it appeared that at least the city engineer and public health departments were supposed to be covered by civil service in addition to the police and fire departments.

The committee believes that the present chief inspector of the public health department was a proper civil service employe, Sager said. The city engineer and his first assistant were not hired in accordance with civil service regulations, he claimed.

The report he presented went on to praise the work of the health department officer and then to criticize the engineering department. Among other things, the committee found the operation of that department did not compare favorably with operations of other cities in Ohio, he said.

Following this report the commission discussed the possibility of stipulating in the proposed charter which city employes were to be classified under civil service jurisdiction. No decision was reached, however, except to send the same two-man committee back to city hall to try to locate ordinances clarifying the present civil service setup. The committee was given two weeks to do the job.

Another suggestion discussed by the commission was that it might be a good idea if applications from outside the police and fire departments be considered for appointment to various high-ranking jobs, such as chief. It was felt that perhaps the occasion might arise in the future when the lower officers would all fail to qualify as chief, making it wise to allow persons outside the departments to apply for the position. Under the present system, it is mandatory that only lower officers in the department be considered. No decision on this matter was reached, however.

Questionnaires

By George Sokolsky

Having an allergy for questionnaires, I picked up one to which the Post Office Department makes important reference. Apparently the Wengel Service Corporation of Princeton, N. J., asked the questions and got the answers. Princeton is becoming the headquarters for all this question and answer business.

SOKOLSKY

The question is:

"Do you think the Post Office Department ought to take in enough money from postage to pay all its costs, or is it all right if it doesn't take in enough to pay all its costs?"

The only sensible answer to the first part of the question is, yes. Nobody could give any other answer. Of course, the Post Office should take in as much money as it can and every American would say, Amen.

NOTHING in this question says anything about how it should be done, by eliminating inefficiencies, by improving the service, by cutting out bad bookkeeping which loads expenses on the Post Office and that should go to other departments. Nothing is said about anything, except, do the citizens want the Post Office to stop losing money?

The second part of the question is really silly. It reads:

"Is it all right if it doesn't take in enough to pay all its costs?"

It is a kind of quarrelsome question. If you don't want me to make money, what do you want me to do? It is a queer sort of question which nobody can really answer, although 14 per cent did say that it did not matter much to them one way or the other.

It is a little hard to convince some of our citizens that any branch of our government ought to pay its way. After all, nobody knows offhand of any department that does.

But to get back to questionnaires, this one is so loaded in one direction that it is like a Soviet election. Precisely how do you say No! to the above question the way it is put.

THE STATISTICIANS report that 78 per cent of those who were asked questions replied, "Ought to take in enough." How many were asked? It says that they were in 200 cities and towns as well as in all 48 states and the District of Columbia. But how many were sampled?

Kinsey reached absolutely conclusive beyond doubt conclusions by sampling 5,940 women out of a nation of 160,000,000 persons. Kinsey has indicated a new morality, a new family system based on this tiny sample.

What sample did the Wengel Service Corporation of Princeton use to decide that most Americans want the Post Office to raise its rates because it "ought to take in enough money from postage to pay all its costs"?

Did the questioner present the questioned with any kind of a plan for making the Post Office self-supporting? Was any explanation offered as to the distribution of increases of postal rates?

DID THE QUESTIONER go boldly up to the proverbial man on the street and say:

"Buddy, I want to ask you a question."

"Who are you?" asked John Citizen.

"Oh! I'm just a question man, working out of Princeton, N. J. We go around asking questions. I'm supposed to pick out a man around 40, married, works in a bank, for an insurance company or is a junior executive. You look that kind. Are you?"

"How did you guess?" John Citizen says in surprise.

"Well, it's like this These days everybody wears white shirts, so that doesn't help much But you wear a hat. So that proves you're through with high school and junior college and are probably married It looks like a Homburg, which only a junior executive or a junior banker would wear — the bosses no longer giving a damn what they look like So, I pick on you Do you mind?"

"Ahem!" says John Citizen, looking important. "Ask your question!"

SO THE QUESTIONER asks the aforesaid question herewith already quoted and John Citizen answers

"Naturally, as a businessman I am all for business methods Naturally, any business must pay its own way. The Post Office is a business, isn't it?"

At this point, the questioner gently fades away. He has his answer.

Just ask yourself: How many times in your life has any questioning organization been around to ask you a question?

Costly Impasse

By Victor Riesel

It's so nice to have atomic cannons—especially if we can shoot them! But we may not be able to fire some of our big guns if a weird and virtually unnoticed strike isn't swiftly settled at the R. Hoe which has contracts for the production of recoil mechanisms for the atomic cannon and the Navy's 105 mm gun. What makes it weird is the danger that the plant's paralysis may run on for months—since there is apparently no way to end the walkout.

RIESEL

For there is no company president. The old company executive was ousted last July. The acting president became ill during negotiations some months ago. Meanwhile, a group of stockholders sued to reinstate the old company head. There were court orders and court appeals—but no president. Since the union, the International Association of Machinists (AFL), was getting nowhere and had no responsible top executive with whom to bargain, it struck the plant on Jan. 25.

WITH EVERYTHING deadlocked, the union has just dispatched letters to all stockholders urging them to get together and elect company officials so negotiations can resume

Where else could all this happen, but the good old USA "

Next time you hear someone whoop it up for the "workers' paradaise" ask them about taxes in Malenkov's miracle state

Here in the U.S., the rich pay as high as 92 per cent in the upper income tax brackets. In the USSR, the high-incomed managerial and political functionary classes pay only 13 per cent income tax. Since this leaves a considerable deficit in the Russian treasury, the "workers' state," if you will excuse the expression, clips "The People" with a terrific sales tax—30 per cent on potatoes, 80 per cent on cheese and 75 per cent on grain, which means it falls mostly on bread, one of the chief staples . . .

As for coffee, at the official rate of exchange, a pound of the great ground stuff costs $45.45 in the "peoples' " Poland; $18.85 in "liberated" Czechoslovakia; $21.39 a pound in "democratic" Bulgaria and $13.54 in "free" Hungary. It gets cheaper as you get closer to Paradise—only $6.47 a pound in Romania and $4.78 for the Russians themselves.

THERE ARE STILL six US steamship companies carrying coffee from Communist Guatemala into this country. Longshoremen in several ports now are spotting the Red java preparatory to organizing squads to dump it in the ocean We can get all the coffee we want from Brazil.

Behind the CIO's closed doors last week, Walter Reuther and his colleagues in the high command tussled with a serious financial problem Unemployment is cutting heavily into the income of the CIO's national office and may force it to curtail its organizational and political activities around the country this year.

Here's what's happened. There are at least 500,000 unemployed in the auto, aircraft and steel industries—this cutting the dues paying membership. The national office gets a dime per man per month from the CIO Unions. That half a million are jobless, therefore, reduces the national CIO office income by $50,000 a month or $600,000 a year.

Add to the unemployed figure another 250,000 without work in the oil fields the rubber industry and all other unions, and the slash in dues income for the national office rolls up to $900,000 and perhaps $1,000,000 annually.

ALL RIGHT, let's talk about some civil liberties. The notorious Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers Union — among whose highest policy makers at least one has refused under Congressional oath, to deny knowledge of espionage against the U.S.—is co-producer of a film called "Salt Of The Earth." It runs America right into the earth. Yet this union has been showing the movie in the heart of New York.

To do so, the film's producers, most of whom have long pro-Soviet records, had, to get union movie projectionists to run the picture. For a while, the stage hands union of my good friend Dick Walsh considered refusing to handle the picture—which would have meant it could not be shown anywhere in the U S.

However, Walsh's International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employes (AFL) decided that this would mean exerting labor censorship over a means of communication and expression. So it decided to handle the film and wash its hands after each showing, although these hands loathe the Commies and drove them, after literally bloody battles, from the Hollywood studios. . . .

THERE IS A REVOLT against President Eisenhower among the House Labor Committee Republicans. If there is continued pressure from Sherman Adams in the White House for legislation easing restrictions on union tactics, the House Republicans will write a bill. But instead of easing secondary boycotts, they will toughen the law on them. And the Congressmen will go far beyond what the President asks in giving the states the right to curb strikes and end the union shop.

If the White House insists that industrialists, as well as union chiefs, sign non-Communist affidavits, the House Labor Committee will write a bill urging complete denial of all rights to function to unions with any Communist leadership.

In other words, the easier the President and the Senate want to go, the tougher the House bloc will be on labor. Obviously there is little chance for any new labor law this session, regardless of President Eisenhower's strict orders. . . .

The Outside

By Saul Pett

(For Hal Boyle)

NEW YORK

The other night I saw a very funny play called "Oh, Men! Oh, Women!"

It concerns a young wife who is unhappy although her husband is a successful actor, loves her, is faithful and is a good provider. She has a nurse for the kids, a cook, maids, gardener, the works.

So, feeling bored and useless, she goes to a psychoanalyst and after a few sessions descides maybe she ought to assert her independence.

She suggests a trial separation to her husband. Being a reasonable man, he blows his top, gets loaded and tracks down the analyst.

WHY, THE LURCHING ACTOR asks the doctor, do so many modern women feel unimportant and useless in the important job of running a house and raising children? Why do they envy those in the "outside" world? What do they think they're missing? "And, finally, doctor," the actor shouts, "tell me this. Tell me, what's on the outside?"

At this point, both men and women, from the $6.60 seats to the last $1.80 seats in the balcony, roared with laughter and stopped the show with wild applause It was clear the play had struck home in many homes.

OBVIOUSLY, WHILE few wives have cooks or nurses or psychoanalysts, many wives have the same feeling of boredom, of uselessness, of missing something. Why this great wonderous envy of the mysterious world on the outside, into which husbands all over the country disappear every morning?

In the play, the doctor never answered the question. So let's face it right here and now Just what is on the outside?

True, the outside has its rises and falls, its triumphs and setbacks, its men who get a $10 raise or are promoted to vice president or find a polio vaccine or win a Nobel Prize. But do wives really know how seldom this happens?

MOSTLY THE OUTSIDE is millions of men shaving, cramming down the last piece of toast, rushing off and being herded like cattle into the cities in crowded commuter trains and buses Do they go gaily off as to a great adventure? They do not. They shuff off, half-asleep, numbed by the hypnotic motion of sameness, driven by unseen whips.

The outside is millions of men at the office glumly picking through the morning mail, growling over new memos from the boss. The outside is millions of men beginning another unglamorous day, reacting to the pressures of half-submerged ambitions, to the pressures of their boss, to the real or fancied competition of their fellow man.

THE OUTSIDE is the mid-morning coffee break which they have, not because they want coffee, but because there lurks the hope that, somehow, five minutes away from the desk will bring new solutions, new stimulation, new horizons. It doesn't.

The outside is millions of men talking shop at lunch, dissecting what old T. J. said or what old T. J.'s secretary said and the way they said it and what they meant. The outside is lunch talk about stocks or options or the raise the new man got and the threat that one day soon, unless the company comes through, by gosh, I'm going to make a break.

It is dialogue that is no more refreshing, imaginative or soul-satisfying than wives' talk about formulas, new detergents or how could that woman ever afford a huge new sectional couch that must have cost $900 and on his salary!

THE OUTSIDE is millions of men coming back from too much lunch, half-heartedly flirting with the pretty receptionist or secretary, and 99.9 per cent of the time either party would be surprised and a little frightened if anything came of it. This is a semi-automatic maneuver that goes with manhood, a token gesture made to hold on to the franchise.

The outside is millions of men leaving a crowded desk at night with a sense of unfillmentt, millions of men being herded back to the cattle cars, dully reading the evening papers, making perfunctory conversation, secretly wonder- when the fun begins.

So relax, girls. The outside is just the inside out.

APPROACHING WARM WEATHER, not to mention what's in them, make these new Cole of California swimsuits eye-catchers. They are shown at Miami Beach, Fla. "Dress the gals like animals," says a Cole designer, referring to the tawny leopard (left) and printed fur-like cotton (right). In middle is the "Double Dare," a plunge in front as well as in back.

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Prof. Naoili Kumagai of Japan, probably that country's foremost geophysicist, arrived here yesterday to start a Texas tour and said he was unhappy he missed last week's severe dust storm.

"I am always the student of unusual soil formations," he explained.

40-Year Romance To Be Culminated In Alaska Wedding

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — The romance of two German youngsters before the start of World War I comes to fruition March 6 in a marriage ceremony at Anchorage, Alaska, after some 40 years of "pen-palling."

Eric Tobehn, now 54, was called too young to become engaged to Charlotte Staudte, 53, when the two were childhood sweethearts in Bad Lovisick, Germany. After Eric was called up for the army, Charlotte's letters followed him through the war years.

Out of the army, instead of returning home, he joined the merchant marine and, in 1926, settled in America. The last several years he has lived at a boarding house operated by Mrs. Oscar Westlund at Mound, Minn., just outside of Minneapolis. Charlotte's letters still came.

But Tobehn didn't have the cash to pay her one-way passage here. He did, however, regale Mrs. Westlund with tales of what a wonderful cook Charlotte was. So Mrs Westlund last year sponsored Charlotte and employed her

A planned wedding last Christmas was abandoned when Tobehn lost his job. Now working for the government in Alaska, he recently wrote to set the date and told of an apartment he has for his bride-to-be in Anchorage.

Her white satin wedding dress all ready, Miss Staudte boards a plane for Alaska Friday.

Storekeeper Adopts TV Methods, Catches Thief

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Determined to catch the thief who had been taking bread from a delivery box outside his store, grocer Gregory Yaroschuk camouflaged himself with a green blanket that blended with a nearby fence.

The vigil paid off yesterday. Armed with a revolver, Yaroschuk jumped out as the thief started taking the bread and nabbed his man—just like on the TV detective drama that gave him the idea.

In the Middle Ages many people believed that all birds mated on Feb. 14.

Eisenhower Visit Boosts Business For Palm Springs

PALM SPRINGS, Calif (AP) — What's a presidential visit worth to a resort community like this?

Two weeks ago this desert spa was in the doldrums. Business was off, Hotels had cut rates It looked like the winter season might be a bust.

Among the things businessmen were gnashing their teeth about was lack of promotion. The Chamber of Commerce budget was a mere $60,000, none of it for publicity. Rival Las Vegas reportedly spends $500,000 a year plugging itself.

Now, with Palm Springs basking in the reflected glow of worldwide publicity attendant to President Eisenhower's visit, all that is changed.

Thousands of sightseers jammed the town last weekend, Hotels were sold out. The 10,000 year-around residents were swamped with guests who "just dropped in."

Businessmen say they couldn't have bought so much publicity for a million dollars. And it hasn't cost 'em a dime.

Stock Market Unreliable As Business Barometer

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Business for some time now has been going one way and the stock market the other.

Stock traders and businessmen—and perhaps a puzzled public—can spend their market holiday today wondering who is right: 1. The businessman who has been drawing in his horns to be ready for a possible severer slump. 2. The consumer who has been going along in the main buying goods he wants just about as if nothing were happening; or 3. The stock trader who seems to be betting that business will shortly turn the corner and march back up the sunny side of the street.

The businessman who raises an eyebrow at the stock market's once touted reputation as a business barometer can point to divided opinion in Wall Street, for that matter.

The short interest on the stock exchange—representing those who are betting that stocks can be bought for less in the future—is the highest in the last 22 years.

And the advance of those bellweather shares selected for the various stock indexes falters a bit from time to time—as it did last week.

But here are the opposite paths that industry and stocks have been taking in recent months:

Since July industrial production of the nation probably has dropped 10 per cent, a Federal Reserve Board official extimates. That is, if there were such a thing as an average factory, it would now be turning out 9 units of goods where 7 months ago it was turning out 10

But in that same 7 months period The Associated Press price index of 60 stocks has risen 6 per cent with the 30 industrial stocks on that list going up 9 per cent.

It is mainly since New Year's that the slip in business and industry has been a general topic of conversation and public worry, pointed up by layoffs and plant closings and the rising total of the jobless. In that same 7 weeks period, The Associated Press stock price index has risen 4½ per cent, with the 15 rails on the index showing the biggest gain—8 per cent

The stock market's old-time reputation of forecasting business six months in advance has held up only about half the time since World War II.

Missouri Boy Survives 125 Foot Fall From Cliff

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Ken Helvey celebrated his 14th birthday today, lucky to be alive after tumbling 125 feet from a Mississippi River bluff.

His fall was cushioned when he landed on a pile of weeds and leaves. A few inches either way, police said, and he could have landed on a log or pile of broken bottles.

"God was good to him," said Ken's mother as she looked at him in City Hospital. Ken suffered a fractured left upper arm but doctors said the boy's condition was excellent.

The youngster was climbing on the bluff when he took a misstep The bluff slopes downward for 25 feet and falls off to a 100-foot drop

Baby Included Among Prisoner's Valuables

CHARLESTON W. Va (AP) — When jailers came to that part of Dan Cunningham's commitment slip calling for "valuables," they hesitated and then wrote:

"One baby."

Cunningham, 25, was arrested yesterday on a drunk charge. He was pushing his infant son in a stroller, and arresting officers also brought the child to the jail.

A short time later, the baby was released to his mother.

Follow the Leader Costs Oklahoma Boy His Life

TECUMSEH, Okla. (AP) — A 17-month-old boy played "follow the leader" with a flock of ducks yesterday and the game cost him his life.

Mrs Effie Boyle, mother of Donald Oliver Boyle, said she saw him following the ducks down to a stock pond on the farm of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Cargill, grandparents of the youngster.

The ducks walked into the pond and began swimming. Young Donald did the same, and sank. He was dead before his mother could reach him.

SENATOR SELLS HOME

CLEVELAND (AP) — Sen. Thomas A. Burke sold his home on Drexmore road here yesterday for an amount believed to be about $24,000. The former Democrat mayor acquired the property in 1942 from Supreme Court Justice Harold H. Burton. Burke and his wife plan to live in an apartment during their residence in Cleveland in the future.

Big Fib Contest Marks Washington's Birthday

DENVER (AP)—A radio station here celebrated Washington's Birthday by awarding a prize to William E. Murphy of Denver for the biggest fib submitted by hopeful liars.

Murphy's story concerned Paul Bunyan's little brother Calvin, who built the world's biggest railroad—the IJA?SI. Spelled out, that's Ireland, Jerusalem, Australia & Southern Indiana.

In keeping with the holiday Murphy won a cherry tree from a local nursery and a hatchet donated by a sporting goods firm.

Oppossum, raccoon, skunk, muskrat, ermine and mink are trapped for their fur within sight of big American cities says the National Geographic Society.

Delaware Man Finds Skeleton, Probe Started

DELAWARE — Examination was being carried on today at Columbus by a University Hospital pathologist on a skeleton believed to be that of a child, found here Saturday.

The skeleton was found Saturday afternoon by Shuble Brown and his brother Thomas while they were examining boxes and other articles which had been left in a barn behind the apartment house by previous tenants City police said Brown had lived about two months in the house which is divided into three apartments

Brown immediately notified police Dr Tennyson Williams coroner, ordered the examination and the skeleton was sent to University Hospital Columbus where Dr Emmerich Von Hamm pathologist is making the examination

A Delaware couple who occupied an apartment at the residence for about two years told police the box was given to them by a woman friend in Japan who asked them to return the box to the United States for her to claim later They said the woman, who now lives in South America had requested the Delaware woman to take the box since her luggage exceeded maximum weight which could be shipped under army regulations Both the Delaware woman and the other woman were civilian employes with the American occupation forces in Japan at the time

The Delaware couple said the woman had made no attempt to reclaim the box and so they believed the contents could not be valuable

The skeleton was found inside a paper bag, similar to a shopping bag which was inside a leather suitcase The suitcase had been placed in the wooden box which was bound with metal strips.

Middletown Ousts Hamilton From Top Spot in Poll

Lockland Wayne Tightens Grip; Delphos Placed Third

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Associated Press weekly high school basketball poll has a new look today

Perched atop the Class A ratings for the first time this year were Middletown's mighty Middies state champions the last two seasons and 5 of the last 10

The Middies did it the hard way climbing over Hamilton's Big Blue—the all season leaders—81 75 last week before 11,864 fans in the Cincinnati Gardens

Thus Paul Walker's fine fellows avenged the 74-70 setback handed them earlier by Warren Scholler's Hamilton squad and tied the Big Blue for the Southern Ohio League title for the third straight year

Not one of the 43 sports editors in the poll picked Hamilton for first place after the loss—second straight for the Big Blue which only the week before was nosed out 68 67 by Columbus South The capital city team, which had an 11 4 record when it met Hamilton continued its giant-killer role last week with a 57 56 win over Columbus North, ending that team's 16 game winning streak

Big surprise of the week was the Niles team coached by Joe Bassett Niles, despite its 17 0 record just managed to ease into the top 10 a week ago but won 2 more last week including a 65 60 thriller over Salem, to vault all the way to third Tecumseh's unbeaten team was in third place momentarily, but a flurry of late votes gave the coveted spot to Niles in the final tabulation

Lockland Wayne, winning its first start in the Hamilton County exempted village tourney clung to first place in Class B—a spot Joe Martin's stalwarts have held all year but unbeaten Vienna with 23 in a row jumped to second place from last week's sixth showing Delphos St John out of the runner up position for the first time.

Wyoming with a 17 1 record ousted St Henry from 10th place but made it by only a point over the colorful Columbiana Clippers who won the Class B state laurels in 1947.

CLASS B

Teams Poll	Won	Lost
Lockland Wayne (12-188)	17	2
Vienna (7 137)	23	0
Delphos St John (1 121)	19	3
Holgate (2 110)	22	0
Strasburg (1 97)	22	0
Sycamore (3 73)	21	0
Waynesburg (2 71)	15	2
Seven Mile (0 59)	18	1
Glenford (0-50)	20	2
Wyoming (0 48)	17	1

The state's 781 Class B teams will be slashed to around 300 by the end of the week as the result of county and exempt school tournaments The survivors will join the 283 Class A clubs next week in sectional play The tournaments hit a 'lose and out' status at that time

The sectionals end March 6 district play March 13 and the Regionals March 20 with the four survivors in each class meeting March 26 27 in Cleveland arena for the championships

Mariemont, winner of the Class B title last year, is in Class A this season, so a new champion is assured

Ken Sidle of Ashland has 425 in 18 games, and needs only 25 to break his own school record Larry Huston of Savannah in Class B has 692 for the season a 30 1 average And Don Pack of Nelsonville with 171 and a 25 plus average, has cracked all Southeastern Ohio League records

Springfield Public, 1925 and 1950 state Class A king has won only 8 of 19 this year Sycamore unbeaten in Class B is averaging 79 points to 49 for the foe with all five starters averaging in double figures

Here's how the teams line up this week in the opinion of radio and newspaper sports editors First place votes and total poll points on a 10 9 8 etc basis are shown in parentheses with the won lost records of the top 10

SHORT SPORTS

By John Short

With the opening of major league training camps Marion baseball fans are turning their eyes to the Washington Senators where Tommy Umphlett will be shooting for an outfield berth

SHORT

Umphlett went to the Senators in a deal which also saw southpaw Mickey McDermott shift to the Nats and Jackie Jensen move into the Red Sox camp Fans are still trying to determine which team got the better of the deal

It was the first big player trade of the winter and fans here were surprised at the Boston move after Umphlett 22 year old rookie had speeded up the retirement of Dom Dimaggio and had patrolled the centerfield spot all season for Boston He seemed a permanent fixture in the Boston outfield with his youthful mate Jim Piersall

HANK GREENBERG, general manager of the Cleveland Indians reported he felt it was a good trade for both clubs when asked about the trade recently at Mansfield

According to Greenberg McDermott was the key in the swap from Washington's viewpoint The Senators needed additional pitching strength while Boston landed a righthanded power hitter to supplement Ted Williams lefthanded swinging A short leftfield wall at Boston's Fenway Park should help Jensen's home run production, Greenberg thinks

Last year, his first season in the big time Umphlett who played with the Marion Red Sox in 1950 finished with a 283 batting average after hovering near the 300 circle all year He drove in 59 runs and hit three homers Jensen batted only 266 but slugged 84 runs across the plate and clouted 10 homers

---

ACTUALLY GREENBERG feels both teams benefitted by the deal McDermott carries an 18 10 season mark to the Senators Last year the 25 year old discovery of former Marion manager Elmer Yoter finished with an earned run average of 3 01, sixth lowert in the American League However he managed to finish only 8 times in 30 starts

Umphlett is not a power hitter but should find the spacious Griffith Stadium outfield especially suited to his line drive hitting

Yankee Ace Signs; Card Rookie Hurt

NEW YORK (AP) — The world champion New York Yankees had about everything but a brass band out to meet their big chief Allie Reynolds today when the aging hurler checked into their St Petersburg Fla camp

A holdout until last night Reynolds came to terms with General Manager George Weiss in a telephone conversation from his Oklahoma City home He assured Weiss he would get the first plane for the Southland

Reynolds signing is a significant one for the Yanks who still have a dozen discontented athletes to round up including such first line pitchers as Vic Raschi and Whitey Ford The Yank brass regarded Reynolds as the key man in the holdout siege They figured that when they signed him the rest would fall in line soon They probably will

Whether Reynolds got his $2 500 raise neither he nor Weiss would say But it was Weiss who made the phone call and Allie certainly doesn't need the money he makes out of baseball to keep him So it's fairly certain that he got the $40 000 he was asking

Weiss was not particularly worried about the rash of holdouts

Let's just wait and see what happens he observed It could be that the situation will change quickly and so there's no use getting excited about some players not being here

With only one day of training behind them the St Louis Cardinals suffered a crushing blow when Alex Grammas their $100 000 rookie shortstop suffered a torn shoulder muscle on his throwing arm

Card officials said the injury happened Friday Grammas was taken to a hospital and Dr I C Middleman the team surgeon said he would be out for an indefinite period

Seven clubs now are holding organized workouts although the official training season doesn't start until March 1 Besides the Yanks the Baltimore Orioles the Milwaukee Braves Philadelphia Phillies New York Giants Boston Red Sox and Detroit Tigers are limbering up

Duquesne Nips BG; Kentucky Defeats Vandy

By RIP WATSON

NEW YORK (AP) The sun won't shine bright on the home of Kentucky basketball today for the three big ones have played their last game there

All American Cliff Hagan Frank Ramsey and Lou Tsioropoulos the last remaining members of Kentucky's 1951 national champions, bowed out on the Lexington Ky, court in fine style last night as they led Kentucky to a 100 64 rout of Vanderbilt With Hagan getting 22 points Tsioropoulos 20 and Ramsey 13 the big three came close to tying Vandy all by themselves

Barred from play last year by the NCAA they have two more regular season games away from home then in all probability will wind up their college careers in a playoff with Louisiana State for the Southeastern Conference championship Even if Kentucky wins that one the three can't play in the NCAA tourney because they are now postgraduates

Win on Forfeit

Elevator Hoopsters Clinch 4th Championship in YMCA Chase

Green Camp Elevator walked off with its fourth straight YMCA Independent League title last night with a forfeit win over the Waldo Merchants.

The Waldo squad could field only four men at game time and the game was declared forfeited.

The win completed an 11-game league grind for the Elevator without a loss on its record. The Marion AC and Marion Industries squads, however, pushed it to its limit in their league encounters.

After entering the YMCA Independent League four years ago, the Elevator has piled up an impressive record in league competition and on an area basis. The Green Campers have never lost a game in league competition, going four years as champions without dropping a game. Two years ago, after copping the local championship, the Elevator squad captured the YMCA district tournament and went to the state finals in the Ohio-West Virginia Sport's Festival at Columbus. This year's squad was made up of Bert Hilborn, Vern Hensel, Don Hensel, Bob Weston, Wayne Weston, Ron Craycraft, Nor Withrow, Jim Ruth and Bus Augenstein. Herb Kempton, manager of the Green Camp Elevator, has been the team's sponsor since its inception four years ago.

In other games last night, the Marion AC put the wraps on second place by defeating McMillen Feed 69-50 as Bob Reiff, Bud England and Simon with 15 points each led the winners to their ninth win in 10 starts. McMillen led by 18-13 score at the end of the first period but fell behind 32-26 at the half, a deficit which it never could recover. Merle Daum hit for 22 points to lead the McMillen scoring.

GI Post took an early lead over the Marion Power Shovel and went on to win 61-44. With five mintues to go, the winners held a slim five-point margin but cinched the verdict with a late scoring spurt.

Joe Tinnerello with 18 points was high for the Legion while Carl Pilkington shoved in 14 for the Shovel.

Iowans Stop Hoosiers in Bid for Title

CHICAGO (AP)—In a stunning form reversal, Iowa's Hawkeyes smashed Indiana's mighty Hoosiers 82-64 last night, thus keeping themselves and Illinois in strong contention for the Big Ten basketball championship.

Illinois helped its own cause with a 66-64 conquest of Wisconsin, guard Jim Wright winning the game with two last-second free throws.

Indiana, had it won from Iowa, would have been guaranteed a share of the conference title and would have needed only one victory in its final two games—Ohio State and Illinois—for full possession.

As it is, the pressure now is on the Hoosiers to prevent either Iowa or Illinois, or both, from claiming a share or even all of the championship.

Indiana has won 10 and lost 2 Iowa has a 9-3 mark and Illinois 8-3.

The championship significance of the Iowa-Indiana and Illinois-Wisconsin battles obscured Northwestern's feat in notching its fifth straight Big Ten win. Michigan State was the victim, 80-71.

In last night's fourth conference game, Minnesota beat Michigan 79-70.

Johnsville and Iberia Go Into Finals Bracket

Iberia and Johnsville charged into the finals of the Morrow County tournament last night on the Coliseum floor with victories over Chesterville and Sparta.

While Johnsville trimmed Sparta 53-49, Iberia upset Chesterville 58-50. In a reserve tourney contest Cardington's downed Sparta 45-31.

Tournament action continues Wednesday night in the Mt. Gilead school gym. Cardington takes on Chesterville in a reserve contest at 6:30 p.m. prior to the Marengo-Chesterville consolation battle at 7:45 p.m. and the Cardington-Sparta consolation tilt at 9:15 p.m.

Action then shifts to the Coliseum Friday. Prior to the championship battle at 9 p.m. between Iberia and Johnsville, the winner of the Cardington-Sparta contest will meet the winner of the Marengo-Chesterville tilt at 7:45 p.m and Edison and Marengo will clash at 6:30 p.m. in a reserve tournament game.

Iberia came back to outscore Chesterville in the final three periods after trailing 11-9 after the first quarter for its upset win last night.

During the third quarter, the score was tied at 25-25, 27-27, 29-29 and 31-31 before Iberia shot ahead 39-34. The Presidents held a nine-point lead through the early part of the final period before Chesterville rallied to trim the Iberia bulge to 49-46 with two minutes remaining.

Don Robinson led the Iberia attack with 18 points while Walt Chambers added 17 and Howard Miller 14. The latter connected on 10 of 13 free throws. Morris James was high man for the losers with 14 points.

Sparta snapped a 41-41 tie midway in the final quarter for its win over Johnsville. The clubs battled to quarter ties of 9-9, 28-28 and 37-37.

Sparta had 15 of 40 free throws while Johnsville hit on 11 of 27.

Glen Myers, who hit for 13 points in the second period, wound up with 20 for the winners. Larry Hulse dropped in 17 points for Sparta while Bob Casto added 13.

Could Cinch Title

Cincinnati Watching Series Between Barons, Johnstown

CINCINNATI (AP)—Cincinnati may be handed, on a gold-plated icicle so to speak, its second straight International Hockey League title this week.

The Mohawks, idle until Saturday, will clinch the championship if both Marion and Johnstown lose one game. And the Barons of Ohio and the Jets of Pennsylvania clash tomorrow and Saturday nights.

Cincinnati today leads second-place Marion by 9 games, the number of contests the Barons have yet to play of the 64 scheduled for the season. Counting 2 points for each victory, Marion could gain only a tie with the league-leaders.

Johnstown, in a third place tie with Toledo, has 12 more games to go. It would take the title by 1 point if it won all and Cincinnati bowed in its last 6. The Jets play Milwaukee tonight.

The Toledo Mercurys have 7 games left and no longer are in the running for the title. They have lost much of their early season zest and will have a tough time retaining the tie.

Fort Wayne, one of the most improved clubs of the league, won its sixth straight last night, blanking Louisville 4-0. The Hoosier Komets play 8 more games and could easily step from sixth place to fifth, now occupied by Grand Rapids, Troy, in seventh, has not given up hopes of getting into the playoffs which are restricted to the top 6 teams.

Last night's loss made it a mathematical impossibility for Louisville to participate.

Rio To Play at Arena

CLEVELAND (AP) — Rio Grande, John Carroll, Findlay and Central State will play here next month to decide Ohio's representative in the annual basketball tournament of the National Assn. of Intercollegiate Athletics.

Play in the four-team Ohio tournament will be March 3-4 at Cleveland Arena. The NAIA meet involving 32 teams opens in Kansas City March 8.

The Marion Star, published daily (evening) at 143 N. State St., Marion, O.
Entered as second class matter May 4, 1895, at the postoffice at Marion, O.

Around Council's Table

Marion City Council adopted six pieces of legislation, returned three to committees for further study, and discussed other items of business at its meeting in city hall Monday night.

Fire Protection

An ordinance authorizing the safety-service director to sign a contract for mutual fire protection with other cities and villages within 30 miles of Marion was unanimously approved. Good for three-years, the contract establishes the fee to be charged for the use of fire apparatus sent to cities signing the contract. The rate will be $50 for each piece of apparatus, $10 for each mile traveled by each piece and $50 each hour after the first for each piece of apparatus. Cities and villages sending equipment to Marion would charge the same fee.

Sewer Contract

A resolution authorizing the safety-service director to sign a contract with the federal government permitting city use of a government - owned sanitary sewer on Jefferson St. was unanimously approved.

The contract will permit the city to tap a new sanitary sewer for the northeast section of the city into the government sewer. The contract provides the city must maintain the sewer from W. Fairground St. south to W. Center St.

One-Way Streets

An ordinance unanimously adopted officially designated four streets as one-way. All are now marked as one-way but no permanent legislation had been adopted previously. The streets affected are Gurley Ave. one-way east from S. Main to S. State St.; Mill St., east from Oak to N. State St., Main St. south from Hill St. to Walnut St.; and Union St. south from W. Center St. to W. Church St.

Contract With Plant

Authorization for signing a contract with the B. F. Goodrich Co. for fire protection of its Green Camp plant was unanimously approved. The contract calls for the company to pay a monthly fee of $16.50 to the city in addition to $75 for each piece of equipment sent to the plant for the first hour or fraction thereof and $25 an hour for each succeeding hour or fraction of an hour. The safety-service director is to negotiate the contract.

Boxing Association

An ordinance appropriating $50 to pay membership dues of the city boxing and wrestling commission in a state-wide association was approved unanimously. Approval came after City Solicitor George A. Piacentino explained the $50 was to pay fees for both 1953 and 1954.

He reported the money does not come out of taxes. He explained the city collects a three per cent amusement tax and also wrestling and boxing promoters pay the city a weekly license fee of $2.

Hospital Bequest

A resolution accepting a bequest of the late Florence S. Durfee to Marion City Hospital was approved unanimously. The bequest amounted to $300. Piacentino suggested the money be used as quickly as possible because the will definitely stipulated the money is to be used in the old City Hospital.

Other Legislation

Legislation sent back to committees for further study were: an ordinance to authorize signing a contract with Marion Industries for treatment of industrial wastes dumped into city sewers, another calling for preparation of plans and specifications of a sewer on Bryant St. north from Fairview St., and one which proposed establishment of a penalty for residents of the city-owned veteran's housing project who neglect to pay advance rents on the date due. Requested by Walter Mathiot, project manager, this ordinance would provide charges of 25 cents a day for each day the rent is not paid after the due date.

Land Easement

In other activity, Herman Rinehart, Third Ward, chairman of the sewers committee, asked that Piacentino investigate the possibility of an easement to extend a Westwood Dr. sanitary sewer across privately owned land. He also reported he was informed a petition is being prepared requesting curbs and gutters on Henry St. from Congress to Buckeye Sts.

Council President William Slack suggested the city purchase a privately-owned lot to extend Fairhaven Ave. from Forest St. to Brightwood Dr.

Invocation for the meeting was given by Capt. Mary Nisiewicz of the Salvation Army. All councilmen were present.

League of Women Voters To Discuss Government Study

Two unit discussion groups of the Marion League of Women Voters have scheduled meetings Wednesday at 9:30 a.m. and 8 p.m. in the YMCA. In these meetings summary discussions of the recent county government study will be held.

The League recently completed a study of local county government in relation to the over-all county government situation in the state as it pertains to the various types of counties, such as the metropolitan counties, and the predominantly rural counties.

The resource committee which has been compiling information for this study is headed by Mrs. Paul Wolf, assisted by Mrs. Robert Stout. Discussion and unit leaders for the morning meeting are Mrs. Francis Wanda and Mrs. J. W. Fretz, while for the evening meeting they are Mrs. Walter Sinden and Mrs. William R. Diem.

Meetings are open to the public. Further information can be obtained from Mrs. B. N. Salzman, unit chairman, or Mrs. Edward Snyder, membership chairman.

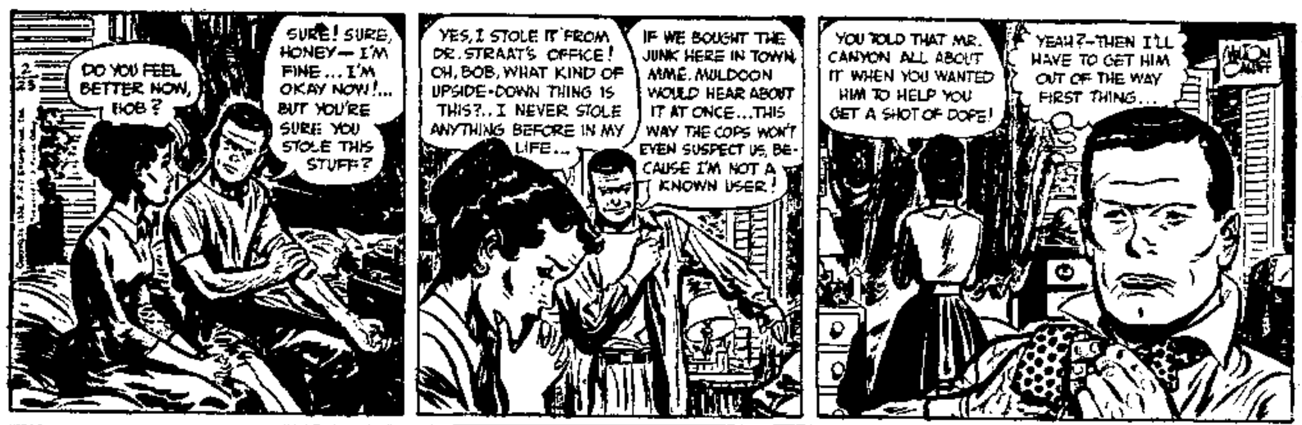
STEVE CANYON By Milton Caniff



DO YOU FEEL BETTER NOW, BOB ?
SURE! SURE, HONEY— I'M FINE ... I'M OKAY NOW!... BUT YOU'RE SURE YOU STOLE THIS STUFF?
YES, I STOLE IT FROM DR. STRAAT'S OFFICE! OH, BOB, WHAT KIND OF UPSIDE-DOWN THING IS THIS?.. I NEVER STOLE ANYTHING BEFORE IN MY LIFE...
IF WE BOUGHT THE JUNK HERE IN TOWN, MME. MULDOON WOULD HEAR ABOUT IT AT ONCE...THIS WAY THE COPS WON'T EVEN SUSPECT US, BECAUSE I'M NOT A KNOWN USER!
YOU TOLD THAT MR. CANYON ALL ABOUT IT WHEN YOU WANTED HIM TO HELP YOU GET A SHOT OF DOPE!
YEAH?—THEN I'LL HAVE TO GET HIM OUT OF THE WAY FIRST THING...

Solution of Yesterday's Puzzle

Writer to Shut-Ins Now One Himself

WICHITA, Kan. (UP) — Arthur S. McNay, who has one of the most soul-satisfying hobbies of all, was warned by his doctor that he might be overdoing it.

McNay, the friend of the shut-in, temporarily is a shut-in himself.

At 77, it was proving too much for him to work all day and keep up correspondence with more than 300 shut-ins at night. But McNay thinks that after a good rest he will be able to handle his full schedule.

For about a dozen years McNay, a widower, made a hobby of writing to shut-ins of all ages in an effort to make life more cheerful for them. Nearly every day he spent two or three hours at a portable typewriter.

Many on his current letter list live in Wichita, but he writes to persons in Oklahoma, California, Canada and England.

McNay early found he needed an index to help him keep track of them. This grew into a big cardboard file. Now he has a steel filing cabinet.

In the elderly man's index, the name cards bear much information about his postage stamp friends—address, birthday and assorted vital statistics.

His filing system includes an elaborate stack of records, such as clippings of news and feature stories, pictures, letters, cards and the like.

McNay has been writing to each on his birthday and also sends a card. And he makes sure each is on his Christmas card list. This is in addition to his regular correspondence with them.

It's a poor day when McNay, who is employed in the Kansas grain inspection department, fails to receive at least three letters from shut-in friends. Often he gets seven or eight. Many of them are from children.

"I am never amazed at the courage and cheerfulness of the children," he said. "Some of their letters make the tears come."

McNay uses only commemorative stamps because many of those he writes are stamp collectors

Questionable Risk Slips Through

Peress Case Reveals Flaw In Army Loyalty Checks

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—When did the Army first learn Dr. Irving Peress commissioned a captain and promoted to major, would not answer questions about subversive organizations to which he might have belonged?

Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) in an uproar with the Army over the case, seems to think it wasn't until last August, after Peress had been in service many months. McCarthy complains that the Army kept him on five months longer.

Actually—according to the Pentagon—Peress refused to answer two months before he was called to active duty, but was called nevertheless, and remained in service 13 months.

McCarthy Protests

On Feb. 1, in a letter to Secretary of the Army Robert T. Stevens, McCarthy protested that Peress refused to answer a questionnaire last August, was promoted to major in October and was honorably discharged this month.

This was the information given by a Pentagon spokesman on Peress, a New York dentist, whom McCarthy calls a "Fifth Amendment Communist."

The Army, needing dentists during the Korean War, commissioned Peress a captain Oct. 15, 1952, and on Oct. 27 and 28, 1952, gave him three questionnaires about membership in subversive organizations. Peress refused to answer, citing the Fifth Amendment, which says a man can't be forced to give information which might tend to incriminate him.

Promoted to Major

Two months later, Jan. 7, 1953, Peress was called to active duty. On Oct. 23, 1953, he was made a major. On Dec. 30, 1953, the Army decided to release him. Why? In a letter to McCarthy on Feb. 16, 1953, Stevens said: Peress' case had "come to the Army's attention" and he was being let out because of his "unwillingness to submit loyalty information."

Since he had refused the information two months before he was called to active duty, why did his case have to be called to the attention of the Army, which already had it? Repeated inquiries at the Pentagon last night failed to get an answer.

Stevens conceded in his letter to McCarthy that under the doctors draft law "it has unfortunately been possible in the past for commissions to be tendered to individuals who might be undesirable."

Was Free To Resign

Although the decision to discharge Peress was made last Dec. 30, he was not notified until Jan. 18. Then he was told he would be released no later than April. He was free to resign before then.

Eight days later, Jan. 30, McCarthy called Peress before his Senate investigations subcommittee and said later the dentist, still an Army major, had cited the Fifth Amendment in refusing to answer questions about Communist connections. McCarthy never explained how he learned about Peress' case.

Three days later, on Feb. 2, McCarthy announced he had written Stevens the day before demanding immediate court-martial of Peress and investigation and possible court - martial of Peress and investigation and possible court-martial of those officers "who had full knowledge of his Communist activities and either took no steps to have him removed or were responsible for his promotion thereafter."

Resigns on Feb. 2

That same day, Feb. 2, Peress stepped out of the Army at his own request with an honorable discharge.

Stevens was in the Far East while this was happening.

When he returned he wrote McCarthy on Feb. 16 that court-martial of Peress now was "impracticable" because, first, he was out of the Army, and, second "the Army does not have available facts on which sound charges could be made."

(There seems to be no question of spying in this case. Peress, as a dentist, had an insensitive job, although McCarthy says he was recruiting for communism.)

Stevens assured the senator he was investigating to see whether there was "conspiracy" in handling Peress and that he was tightening up Army procedures to see that nothing like this happened again. Stevens said in future similar cases a reserve officer will be discharged under "other than honorable conditions."

Called by McCarthy

On Feb. 18—two days after Stevens wrote his letter and 14 days after Peress had left the Army—McCarthy called the dentist before his subcommittee and said later he had refused to answer 33 questions.

At this same session McCarthy quizzed Brig. Gen. Ralph W. Zwicker, commander of Camp Kilmer, N. J., where Peress had been stationed. Zwicker refused to answer questions about Peress' Army career. He said he was forbidden to by an executive order instructing officers not to answer security questions outside the executive department.

Zwicker complained he was insulted by McCarthy. Stevens ordered Army officers not to appear before McCarthy. He said he'd testify himself. He's due to face McCarthy Thursday.

Crawford Jury To Consider Case Against Marionite

BUCYRUS — Crawford County's grand jury convened here today for a two-day session during which it will consider at least 10 cases. Originally scheduled for four days, Prosecutor John D. Sears Jr. of Bucyrus, said this morning he expected the jury probably would make its report late Wednesday.

Among the 10 cases, already on the jury's docket, are grand larceny charges against James C. Harney, 23, and J. T. Wood, 24, both of Crestline, charged with the theft of $303 worth of brass bushings from the Pennsylvania Railroad roundhouse in Crestline last month.

Other cases to be submitted to the jury include: Gerald Edward Dunaway, 21, of Marion, a former Galion resident, auto theft and breaking and entering; Richard Derr, 18, Mansfield, indecent exposure; Noel L. Nagel, 38, Bucyrus, Orville Phipps, Galion, and Earl Tippin, Bucyrus, all non-support; Frederick Mail, Terre Haute, Ind., illegal parking; John B. Cashion, 47, Evanston, Ill., and Emmett Roe, Steubenville, speeding.

The charges against Dunaway, who is being held in the county jail here, were filed in connection with burglary of the Earle A. Wiener Co. garage in Galion last Nov. 14 and the theft of two cars from the garage's car lot. Dunaway has confessed to both charges, authorities said.

Invalid Father Helpless To Save Son From Fire

LOS ANGELES (AP)—An invalid father watched helplessly from a wheel chair while his son, 4, burned to death in a garage fire.

Firemen said the boy, Mark Clark, apparently hid in a car in the garage while playing with neighborhood children yesterday. His brothers David, 12, and Edward, 15, tried to reach him but were driven back by the flames.

Overcome by grief, the father, Archie Clark, was taken to a hospital.

Margaret Kennedy Finance Expert

Woman Broker at Ease on Wall Street

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women s Editor

If more American husbands would teach their wives the ABCs of finance, there would be fewer divorces, in the opinion of Margaret E Kennedy one of the few women in the country in active partnership in a New York Stock Exchange firm

"I m constantly amazed" says this pink cheeked petticoat tycoon at the number of otherwise intelligent capable women who haven t the faintest idea where the family money comes from how much there is of it, or what they would do if their husbands suddenly dropped dead "

MRS KENNEDY, a young and feminine looking widow and mother of two children has established many financial 'firsts' for women She was the first woman account executive of the investment counsel firm of Van Strum and Towne first woman to be appointed a vice president of a large mutual fund sponsor and several years ago became the first woman wholesaler of mutual funds in the country when she formed her own firm Margaret Kennedy Co Last year she was admitted as an active general partner in the stock exchange firm of Seligman, Lubetkin and Co

A specialist in finance management, Mrs. Kennedy makes frequent lecture tours around the country explaining her "woman s dollar" program She explains

"This all came about when I realized the awful paradox that although women spend most of the family money they often know little about the family s future planning and aren t up to the best ways of investing for the future

AS AN ILLUSTRATION of her point, Mrs Kennedy tells of the wife of a wealthy and successful business man who runs a perfectly appointed home, shops wisely for herself and her children is poised charming and informed on all current world events, who recently said

"Tell me Margaret how much is $1 000? I honestly wouldn t know I know how much $100 is because if my husband gave me that much to go shopping I d know what it would buy But I don t think I ve ever seen $1 000 in cash

"I order what we need to run the house and keep myself and the children well dressed, and my husband pays the bills If somebody handed me $1 000 in cash I would not know what to do with it '

Mrs Kennedy has strong opinions on such situations She says

'There are too many men who say to their wives— go ahead and buy what you want I ll pay for it ' Often the wives have no idea how much the family can afford to spend whether their husbands have unlimited funds or whether they are on the edge of bankruptcy.

"THERE WAS, for instance the case of the wife of a client of our firm who called frantically on Christmas Eve to say that her husband had just had a heart attack and was in the hospital Although there was a $5 000 diamond bracelet under the Christmas tree for her from her husband, she didn't know whether the family had money enough for the hospital bill When her husband s firm reassured her she still was worried

'But as soon as the husband recovered, do you think he explained anything to her about their finances? No indeed He just said— now don t you worry honey, I ll take care of everything ' "

Grain Elevator To Be Erected By Waldo Firm

Excavation on the Waldo Supply Company s new 225 000 bushel grain elevator will begin today, Waldo Supply president and general manager, Leon McCorkle reported

To be located between the company s present lumber yards and the Pennsylvania Railroad tracks in Waldo the elevator is of a concrete slip-form type The elevator will be 140 feet high

Completion of the elevator is expected by July 1 Contractor for the job is the Jack and McCord Construction Co of Farmer City, Ill

McCorkle said the elevator will be used to store both privately owned and government owned grain At present the company s storage space is limited to 15 000 bushels forcing rental of space from terminal elevator points in Cleveland Buffalo and Toledo The new elevator will eliminate this rental McCorkle said

A new grain dryer will be built adjacent to the elevator McCorkle said

Also under construction is a new seed processing plant and warehouse which will be used to completely clean field seeds It is adjacent to the old seed processing plant

McCorkle said the new plant will clean field seeds and the old one will clean grain seeds Present facilities can only partially clean field seeds

Completion of the elevator and seed processing operations will give Waldo one of the most complete plants in Ohio, McCorkle said

Announce New Way To Shrink Painful Piles

Find Healing Substance That Does Both—Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to stop bleeding—without surgery

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions some of 10 to 20 years' standing

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

Now this new healing substance is offered in ointment form for hemorrhoids under the name Preparation H * The price is only 98¢ a tube including an applicator The name to ask for is Preparation H—at all drug stores And remember—if not entirely satisfied—your money will be refunded promptly *Trade Mark

Radio and Television

By John Crosby

The Liberace Frenzy

J. CROSBY

I don't usually pay much attention to letters. The letter-writers, it is my considered opinion, wield entirely too much influnece in our fear-ridden society already. This is the age of letter-writing.

Never before in recorded history have so many people leapt to their escritoires to pen a missive to someone they don't know, expressing an opinion on the letter-receiver's act at the Palace or his yesterday's column in The Daily Bladder or his appearance on the Milton Berle show.

The world, I've arbitrarily decided, is divided into two classes of people — those who write letters and those who receive them. If you have a column or a television show, you receive letters. If you haven't, you write 'em.

I'M A LETTER-RECEIVER and we letter-receivers get to loathe mail, even the nice mail, simply because there's so much of it. How do so many people have so much time? Every time Arthur Godfrey opens his mouth 30,000 letters pour in. Just think of the man-hours —or more probably woman-hours.

Of course, there is a good deal of polite lying about the amount of mail anyone receives. If an entertainer says he gets 10,000 letters a week, you may assume that on a good week, he gets maybe 2 000.

The letters fall into two categories. Category 1: you are a prince among men. Cagegory 2: you are a louse. Both opinions are wildly exaggerated. The general idea of the game is to keep Category 1 well ahead of Category 2. This isn't hard. When I first started this column about eight years ago, I kept a count of the mail and it ran anywhere from five to one to eight to one in my favor. I haven't done that in some time but I should guess that ratio hasn't changed much.

That is, until I wrote a column about Liberace. Then the roof fell in. Brother, there hasn't been vituperation like that since Cicero delivered the Philippics in the Fifth Century B.C. The nicer letters started out: "Drop dead." The not-so-nice-ones—well, never mind.

OUT IN INDIANA. The Indianapolis News printed the Liberace column on page 1 and then sat back to await the storm. It struck. The News switchboard was inundated with calls from infuriated women and the letters started arriving the next day. ("John Crosby is the most terrible writer I have ever read. He is rotten, disgusting." That's one of the more restrained letters.)

The Indianapolis ladies dug up the telephone number of a local resident who was unfortunate enough to be named John Crosby and his telephone rang through the night with calls from irate Liberace fans. (From the New York John Crosby to the Indianapolis John Crosby, a heartfelt apology.)

Last night The South Bend Tribune — the Indiana girls seem to be madder than the others, though they're pretty mad even in Philadelphia, the City of Brotherly Love — called long distance to say the tempest had engulfed them, too.

WHAT'S WITH THESE girls, anyhow? It isn't just the quantity of indignation (which is prodigious) but the intensity of it which bemuses me. You can't tell me that many women get that furious over a matter of disagreement as to the merits of a piano player, any piano player. (In that regard, I still think Liberace plays piano as if he were wearing boxing gloves. I could phone Local 802 of the Musicians Union and dig up 100 piano players I'd rather listen to.)

You think maybe it's the maternal instinct this man arouses? I give up. I just think it's news that a piano player — any piano player and especially this piano player — can evoke such a furious defense.

You suppose may be in 10 or 15 years I could venture into Indiana without being torn to pieces? I like Indiana.

University Photographs Bottom of Puget Sound

SEATTLE, Wash. (UP) — The oceanography department of the University of Washington is making a photographic study of the bottom of Puget Sound with a camera that can take pictures 300 feet below the surface.

The photographic gear is mounted on an eight-foot steel shaft that can be dropped into the water on a cable suspended from the university's oceanography vessel, the Brown Bear. Near the top of the shaft is a 35-millimeter rapid-sequence camera in a pressurized case. Below it is a flashbulb attachment and a reflector.

Hanging from the bottom of the shaft is a weight. When the weight hits bottom it sets off the flash and trips the camera shutter.

Pictures reproduce an area about three feet square.

Current models of cars have an average of 20 lights.

Education Isn't the Whole Idea

The latest report on athletic practices which clash with sound educational practices differs from previous reports in only one particular.

The latest one deals with elementary and high schools in the public-school system, instead of with colleges. The same practices which have been giving educators headaches in the colleges have been creeping into high schools and even into elementary schools, according to the educational policies commission of the American Association of School Administrators.

But like all the other earnest educators who have dealt with this problem, the School Administrators have missed the point, in our opinion.

They have overlooked the reason why these practices have flourished.

They have nothing directly to do with education. But educational institutions provide a reason for their existence.

Athletic teams representing the institutions become focal points of interest for millions of Americans who crave a sense of participation in some form of athletic endeavor.

These organizations of amateur athletes are a substitute for professional baseball teams and, more recently, professional football teams which command the loyalty and interest of millions of fans.

The same thing which impels a baseball bug to follow the Chicago Cubs impels sports followers in other circumstances to attach themselves to the football team of Notre Dame, Ohio State, or a nearby high school.

It is only one easy step from this starting point of interest to the tail-wagging-the-dog situation which makes educators aware of a conflict of interest between organized athletics and classroom education—over-emphasis of athletics.

Once the conflict takes form, there is only one way to dissolve it — the hard way chosen by a few institutions in the field of advanced education which have got out of the business of providing athletic spectacles for pay and have reverted to athletics for sport.

This is what the educational policies commission of the American Association of School Administrators proposes as a solution for public schools. It will not be adopted. It assumes that classroom education is the only admissible function of the educational system.

That assumption cannot be upheld in the light of widespread public interest in athletic spectacles provided by schoolboys.

The Safer the Better

The impression is so widespread that highway hazards are increasing by leaps and bounds that few of us realize how much safer we are as individuals on the roads than we used to be.

The Whi Hous Confrne on HighwySafety The White Huse Conference on Highway Safety, now in progress, will take this into account in its deliberations, however. The problem of highway safety is not how to find an answer to a problem which has been going unanswered. It is how to keep the safety trend going in the right direction.

National Safety Council says the death rate per 100,000,000 vehicle-miles in 1953 was 7, the lowest rate on record. It compares with a rate of 12 reached in 1941 — the worst on record.

Seventeen states had fewer traffic deaths in 1953 than they had in 1952, despite ever-higher registrations of automobiles and ever-higher mileage totals. These create the impression of automobiles and ever-higher mileage totals. These create the impression that more cars traveling greater distances at higher speeds have made the highways more dangerous.

But there are more accidents only because there are more people driving more cars greater distances. The accident hazard per person has been declining as the result of an ever-widening margin of safety. You are safer on a highway in an automobile today than you have been at any time since automobile traffic began to challenge household hazards as a prime source of physical danger.

In their zeal for making highways safer — and the safer they are the better — the anti-accident campaigners sometimes leave the impression they have been making no headway.

Six of One

The un-British uproar detonated by Evangelist Billy Graham's advance-publicity confusion between socialism and secularism in his forthcoming mission to "perfidious Albion" is something for all of us to think about.

When Graham's publicists unwisely said socialism had done to Britain what Hitler's bombs couldn't do, they walked heavily on the Socialist party's tender toes. For that they must apologize. They are explaining that they meant to say secularism had done what Hitler's bombs couldn't do and got their words mixed up.

This seems safe because secularists aren't organized and socialists are. But one wonders if Britain's organized socialists, who would make the authority of the secular state absolutely supreme aren't being secularists to the nth degree and vice versa.

Evangelist Graham's advance agents made a distinction without a substantial difference when they unmixed the words they mixed up.

Frankness Lacking

American Public Distrusts Political Double-Talk

Hypocrisy and double-talk are the chief reasons why the American people have begun to distrust politicians and to discount the sincerity of their statements to the public.

When President Truman dismissed Gen. MacArthur ostensibly because of a disagreement on military policy in Korea but actually because of a letter the general wrote to Representative Martin in answer to a legitimate inquiry, there was quite a furor and an attempt by Truman officials to deny that this was the reason.

Obviously, a supreme commander couldn't be discharged just for replying to a letter from a member of Congress on public matters. Then came the trumped-up charges on other grounds and the effort to justify the dismissal.

Many people have thought the administration of Dwight Eisenhower would be different, that there would be forthright action and candor and no effort to camouflage truth in the interest of politics.

In bungling, however, the case of Clarence Manion, dismissed in the first instance because of a dislike of his expressed views on the Bricker amendment, the administration now has resorted to the excuse that Manion didn't give enough time to his work and spent too much of it on outside activities.

WHEN IT BECAME apparent at the White House that the chairman of an independent agency of the government created by Congress was being punished for freedom of speech on a topic of public interest and that this wouldn't look good as an excuse for firing him, a turn in tactics developed and it was apparently decided to say that Manion wasn't giving enough time to his work.

This is not in accordance with the facts as understood by most members of the Commission on Intergovernmental Relations of which Manion was chairman.

Gov. Thornton of Colorado, who himself hasn't attended many meetings of the commission and who was not present when Manion told the commission of his resignation and received a vote of confidence last week — went to the White House and gave the reporters afterward an inspired version concerning the firing of Manion.

The Press reported Gov. Thornton on Friday last as saying after a conference with Presidential Assistant Sherman Adams that the former dean of the Notre Dame Law School was not dismissed because of his views on the Bricker amendment because these were well known to the President when the appointment was made but because, "He had too many outside activities and did not have time enough to devote to the commission."

Thornton added that Adams has been concerned about the slowness of the commission's work and his concern was shared almost unanimously by members of the commission. The Colorado governor said that while he wasn't speaking for the White House, he was stating "the facts as I know them."

WHAT ARE the facts? On the authority of Manion they can be stated because he has them first-hand. The former law school dean had a conference last summer with President Eisenhower at which Sherman Adams was present, Manion pointed out that he had outside work and couldn't give the commission the time it probably needed.

Eisenhower urged him nevertheless to accept, stating that Manion need not give more than a day or so a month to the meetings and three or four days a month to the work and that a fulltime director and staff would be provided by Adams.

Manion gave to his duties on the commission many days a month and went around the country organizing the necessary subcommittees for the commission's work.

He succeeded in persuading Dudley White, a former member of Congress from Sandusky, Ohio, to become full-time director. White worked tirelessly and now, chagrined at the reports of alleged slowness of the work, has offered his resignation.

The truth is Congress thought the commission could examine federal and state and municipal relations and report by March 1, 1954. It became apparent in January that this period had to be extended and Manion with White House knowledge and consent has recently been engaged in the process of gettig a bill through Congress to extend the time. No objection arose to this plan on Capitol Hill.

White, the executive director, knew nothing of any slowness in the work though it is reported that Adams began a few weeks ago to telephone individual members of the commission to ask them if the work wasn't going slowly.

THIS WAS subsequent to published reports that the White House didn't like the speeches made by Manion on the Bricker amendment and would be fired.

The timetable of the commission's work is available in a progress report submitted by Manion on February 12 to Sherman Adams.

The law which called on the President to appoint a commission of 25 to study the subject was passed last July, but it was November before the President had completed the task of selecting the appointees and getting them sworn in for service.

Then there was some difficulty in finding an executive director, so it was December before the commission could start functioning.

As is customary with such commissions, whose members happen to be governors or senators and representatives or busy men from private life, the executive director is the man who is responsible for the administrative progress.

It is natural that White should be angered because his work is being challenged and alleged slowness is being given to cover up the real reason for the episode—dislike of Manion's views on the Bricker amendment.

Evasion was a characteristic of the Truman administration. It is surprising to see a similar lack of frankness exhibited by the Eisenhower administration whose "leadership" has been so widely hailed as immune from the virus of political double-talk.

Rosy Fingered Dawn

By TRUMAN TWILL

When the grass turns green under the chunk wood piled up where winter chopping-sessions were held, townies begin to look at country real estate.

The optimum season for pulling up urban stakes in pursuit of Rosy Fingered Dawn is early springtime, when winter's monochrome is beginning to add color but before the weeds and bugs have added any distractions.

A part-time consultant to townies thinking about making the big break must bear the weight of his conscience when giving advice on this matter. If his conscience weighs on him heavily, he will give no advice at all lest his burden become intolerable.

There are certain things a townie should avoid when choosing a location in R.F.D., and all of them are obvious — bad wells, bad roads, bad neighbors, bad land and bad buildings. But the things he should look for are wholly personal and cannot be passed from hand to hand like currency or appraised like real estate.

He should look for a certain way the sun shines on the trees in early morning and for the glint of moonlight on a white birch at midnight.

He should seek a certain feeling of the earth under his feet — a feeling of security and rightness which will never be possible if it isn't the right earth under the right feet.

He should search a fragrance in the air and a quality of the wind when limber trees bend and guy wires on television aerials begin to hum.

A townie who knows what he's about will choose a grassy slope shaded from the late-afternoon sun on hot days. He will want to know something about the appearance of certain groves, lanes, windbreaks and fence corners when there is snow on the ground and will have taken the trouble to see about these matters before springtime.

He will need work he can perform with his idle hands and something to rest his eye upon when he sits down to replenish his energy.

He will need space for walking with a cheerful dog and facilities for angling, even though using unbaited hooks with the barbs filed off.

There also are such matters as red birds, blue birds, red squirrels, gray squirrels, possums, woodchucks, pheasant, quail and rabbit to check into thoughtfully.

The list is long and would take a great deal of time to cover if every detail were weighted. But fortunately all things that must be appraised personally are intangible and therefore cannot be weighed.

Hundreds of thousands of townies who shortly will be mooning around the countryside looking for places to stake their claims in Rosy Fingered Dawn will know in their bones when they've found the right one.

It may have been Poverty Knob for the fellow who lived there last, and it may be the end of the earth for those who never want to live there at all. But for the lucky townie who chooses it to be his very own it will be a mortgage in paradise with chicken every Sunday and fresh air unlimited.

Manion Case Badly Muddled by GOP

By Raymond Moley

Once more, it seems that the White House team has performed in a very awkward fashion. And it seems further that the chief performer has been Presidential Assistant Sherman Adams.

The former governor of New Hampshire, after somebody in the know had signalled the action to favorite newspapermen, abruptly asked for the resignation of Clarence Manion, former dean of the Notre Dame Law School, as chairman of the Commission on Intergovernmental Relations. That Lincoln's Birthday should have been selected for this was just one of those awkward coincidences.

THE PLOT is muddied further by the fact that to take such action at this time certainly would give friends of the Bricker amendment reason to claim that Manion's advocacy of that measure was the reason behind the action.

The whole thing suggests the comedy of errors that surrounded the "lost" presidential message on Taft-Hartley and the resignation of Durkin.

Manion, however, is not without blame in the matter. The great importance of the commission of which he was the head should have transcended the need that he express his views on the Bricker amendment.

The fact that one of the major problems of his commission would be the future of the TVA should have prevented his making premature statements on that subject.

There also has been criticism of the commission because it has been so slow in getting organized.

It is a tragedy that this upset should have taken place. For the purpose of the commission goes to the very heart of the basic problem of government in the United States.

THE ONLY WAY through which we can escape rule by a huge, overgrown federal bureaucracy is to shake loose the federal government's hold on tax sources which formerly and properly belonged to the states.

For two or three decades the federal government has been seizing those sources with one hand and has been giving back part of the loot to the states in the form of grants-in-aid.

It was unfortunate that when the Manion commission was appointed its function was announced as an attack upon "duplication" of federal and state functions. It is not "duplication" that is the matter. It is expropriation by the federal government.

To work out the details of a new apportionment of tax sources will be an immense job. It will require vast research, patient negotiations and, later, persistent pressure for legislation.

AN EXCELLENT report on this subject was written by a task force of the first Hoover commission in 1949. It pointed out in some detail the sources appropriate for state taxation and those appropriate for the federal government. However, nothing came of this preliminary survey.

It remains for the Commission on Intergovernmental Relations to take up those Hoover suggestions, spell them out, and get Congress and the states to consider them.

That is more important than the fate of Manion, Adams, or the President himself. For it involves the future of republican government.

All Bee-Cause of Bees

By JERRY KLEIN

Thousands of bees carried out a low-level attack recently at London Airport, but there were no casualties. They arrived in military formation for a drink on the house when a passenger dropped a bottle of cognac.

Yes, bees can certainly cause trouble.

Scotland Yard had to be called to the rescue when a swarm of bees invaded London's Baker Street, disrupting traffic and chasing pedestrians in and out of stores. The yard sent an apiarist who lured the bees into a box.

One of the sweetest structures in America is the First Methodist Church at Durand, Michigan. Over the years, bees have deposited an estimated 2,000 pounds of honey on the church walls.

Workmen trying to repair a church in Clifton, N. J., were hampered by bees who lived in the church so they decided to burn out the hives. Instead, they set fire to the church. Then the workmen tried to extinguish the flames. One of them sent to the hospital with severe burns.

Swallows may come every year to Capistrano, but in Newark, N J thousands of bees come every fall to Trinity Reformed Church

They apparently recognize the pastor as an old friend because they crawl all over him during their three-week stay, but never sting him.

In Rye, N. Y., a man collapsed and died when stung by a bee because he had a rare allergy. It caused his larynx to swell and suffocate him.

A woman was driving along in Reseda, Calif., when a gust of wind blew a bee into her car. The bee stung her on one eye while the breeze lifted her skirt over the other eye. Temporarily blinded, she crashed into a parked car and did $50 damage.

Two men were demolishing a house in Memphis when a bee came along and stung one of them. He slapped at it and let go a barrage of profanity. The second man thought the cussing was aimed at him and threw a crowbar at his co-worker. One man landed in the hospital and the other in jail.

The City Council of Burbank, Calif, adopted an ordinance prohibiting bees from coming within twenty feet of a house. The measure was proposed by Councilman Howard I. Stikes in answer to "a swarm of protests from bee-stung citizens."

A Chicago jury had to decide the value of a bee's life when a shipment of 20 000,000 bees died while in transit on a railroad. The jury decided each bee was worth .000315 of a cent, and awarded total damages of $6,300.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

The Great Paddle Uproar

A school which doesn't spare the rod has attracted nationwide attention, with many parents blowing their stacks at the idea of a teacher or school principal laying a hand on a hard-to-handle kid.

Despite the national scene which shows the small fry and teen-agers operating in switch-knife gangs, sticking up stores, vandalizing schools and homes and giving the police the laugh, the uproar from parents who are outraged by a few whacks from a teacher "where it does the most good" can be heard from coast to coast. Which is extra hard to explain in view of the fact that if there is anything the kids need today it is a little tough disciplining and a respect for the rules and regulations.

America was built through generations in which the trip to the woodshed, the shingle, the paddle and the school principal's thick strap were routine in the case of a kid who set himself up as boss of the works, thumbed his nose at rules and constituted a major headache in home and school.

It is a notable fact that in those days of a little hardy discipline now and then no schoolrooms were wrecked, no teachers terrorized, no community shamed by juvenile crime waves and no teen-ager seen smiling from ear to ear as he posed for the photographers after being arrested for poisoning his parents, showing a "This is a stickup" note through a bank window, stealing a neighbor's car or pushing over cemetery monuments by way of good clean fun.

Law and order never had it so good as when the old man paddled junior to a fare-thee-well if he deserved it, and when the school head could apply the strap to a juvenile rowdy with no screams from daddy and mammy.

We could still stand a lot of corrective work on our character, but we can't say that John G. Lewis, the school principal back home, didn't try hard when he called us into his office, took out the biggest strap we ever saw before or since, and brought it down 10 or 15 times on each outstretched paw. He was a workman-like master of discipline who put rhythm and wallop into it. No gripping too hard or failing to follow through.

It never struck us as an unjust proceeding, even when he made us howl, and we knew better than to tell our parents. No boy had better ones, but they could hear of a little punishment in school for disorderly conduct without writing the editor, getting up a protest parade or filling the air with arguments that children must be allowed to develop character with minimum interference, even in their moments of outlawry.

The principal was a double for Robert E. Lee in appearance and he often made us wish we were Ulysses S. Grant. His strap was just about the finest factor in good government that we ever knew.

It was an accepted instrument in the process of education in the grammar school system.

When it was being applied the socks could be heard all over the building. Frankly, the noise exceeded the punishment. But we never heard of any squawks from victims or their families.

In the New York case the school head limits his punishments to TWO whacks from a light paddle. Two whacks from even a heavy paddle in our boyhood would have implied the principal thought we were a sissy. Any principal who wasn't going for 10 whacks or better wasn't trying. (And neither was the kid.)

Auto Worker Confesses Guilt In 1935 Slaying

Let Another Youth Take Blame, Police Told by Clevelander

CLEVELAND (UP)—Police today considered what action to take against a motor car company worker who said he killed a boyhood companion in 1935 and then let another youth take the blame.

Anthony Derda, 29, walked up to a police inspector in a restaurant and told his story yesterday, saying he wanted to clear his conscience and "get right with God."

"That other guy has been living with a black mark on his record all of these years," he said. "I've been living with the actual guilt."

He identified the boy killed in a woods near Pittsburgh 18 years ago as Steve Kotola, then about 7. Henry Oberhelman, then 16, was accused of the crime and sent to a boys' corrective school, Derda added.

Pittsburgh police verified young Kotola had been killed, but said Oberhelman was tried and acquitted of the shooting. Oberhelman later died.

Deputy Police Inspector Chester I. Burnett said Derda gave these details:

Derda, 11 at the time, was hunting rabbits with the Kotola boy. The boy taunted him and Derda shot him through the head with a .22 rifle.

Derda then concocted a story for police, saying the boy had stolen his rifle and fled in the woods.

When the snow melted 45 days later, the body was found and Oberhelman was blamed.

In Pittsburgh, Joseph Flynn, captain of homicide detectives, described Oberhelman as a "mentally retarded" youth who spent time in mental institutions before and after the shooting. He admitted the shooting at first, then denied it and was acquitted when eventually brought to trial, Flynn reported.

He was believed to have died in Philadelphia three years ago.

The detective said he planned to talk with Dist. Atty. James F. Malone today to decide what action to take against Derda.

Miss Ohio Will Visit City

Beauty Will 'Hold Court' In Uhler's Store On Saturday

Miss Ohio of 1954 will hold informal court in Uhler's corset department Saturday.

The beauty queen, Miss Martha Zimmerman of Salem, will be in the store throughout the day to discuss with Marion women foundations and their most advantageous use. She will come to Marion as the guest of H. W. Gossard Co. and Mrs. Pearle Vestal, head of Uhler's foundation department.

Setting an example of how to look your best, Miss Zimmerman will wear the regal formal gown in which she appeared at the Miss America contest in Atlantic City.

She will explain how properly selected foundation garments can improve the appearance of other clothing and minimize figure faults. The beauty queen herself is five feet, five inches tall and weighs 124 pounds. She has a 35-inch bust and a 24-inch waist and measures 36 inches at the hips.

While attending high school in Salem, Miss Zimmerman kept her figure in trim and developed the poise that helped her to beauty fame by twirling the baton as a majorette for both her school band and the American Legion band.

Automobile Looked Like His Neighbor's—It Was

WEST LEBANON, N. H. (UP) — John J. Cameron lives next door to John Segalini.

Each had his car parked in front of his home one night. Segalini's with ignition keys in it. But the keyless Cameron car was stolen.

Next morning, Seglaini found a parking violation ticket on his vehicle as he prepared to go hunting. At his hunting location near the Plainfield-Lebanon line, Segalini spotted a car just like Cameron's, though it bore Conn. registration plates.

Segalini went to the police station to report on the car, at the same time being informed that his parking ticket was only a warning.

Police investigated and the "Connecticut - registered" car proved to be Cameron's.

When an earthquake hit San Francisco in 1906, nearby land slipped sideways 21 feet.

Arbogast-Jerew Wedding Held in Church in Kansas

The First Presbyterian Church in Salina, Kas. was the scene of the wedding of Miss Shirley Ann Arbogast, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold L. Arbogast of 477 E. Church St., and Airman 1-c Gene Jerew, Saturday, Feb. 13. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. I. Hinklin of 594 Pearl St.

Only the immediate families were present for the ceremony read at 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon by Rev. Trent Davidson. The couple repeated the double ring service before an altar decorated with red and white gladioli.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a beige flannel suit accented with braid in a darker shade, and her tan hat was trimmed in white pique. Completing her costume were brown lizard shoes and she carried a purple-throated white orchid on a white satin covered Bible.

Mrs. Philip Finoch of Salino was the matron of honor and the bride's only attendant. Her waltz-length dress was in a royal blue shade with which she combined black accessories, and her colonial bouquet held red and white carnations.

Philip Finoch, who served with the bridegroom in the armed forces in Japan, was the best man.

Following the ceremony there was a reception and dinner in the Coronado room in the Lamar Hotel.

The bride was graduated from Harding High School in 1950 and attended Ohio University for two years. For the past year she made her home in San Francisco, returning home in December. Airman Jerew, also a graduate of Harding High School in 1950, attended Miami University before enlisting in the Air Force in October of 1951. He returned from six months service in Japan last December and is now stationed at Smoky Hill Air Force Base at Selma where he and his bride will make their home at 152 N. Eighth St.

Mrs. Gene Jerew

Attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Arbogast and son, Bill, Mr. and Mrs. A. I. Hinklin and son, Doug, of Marion, Mrs. Betty Conner and children Patricia and Michael, aunt and cousins of the bride, and Kenneth Moore o Wichita, Kas.

Lana Turner Professes No Envy At Success of Marilyn Monroe

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Marilyn Monroe may be beleaguered by her studio and badgered by rival actresses but she has one firm fan—Lana Turner.

"Marilyn is one girl I'd like to meet," says the glamor beauty. "I've followed her career and I think she's got a lot of spunk. She must be a very interesting person.

"Now that she's on top, she'll be hit from all sides. I know just how it is. I've been taking it for 17 years in this business."

Lana made these remarks over cocktails in a quiet corner of a Sunset Strip restaurant. As we talked, several men came by and sat at nearby tables. They stared at the actress and I could sense they were thinking, "That doll looks familiar, but who is she?"

She seemed happy with this fragment of privacy. If her hair were its familiar blonde, the male admirers would have recognized and besieged her for autographs. Her present shade is a dark brown, and she is delighted with it.

"Some people like it, some hate it," she laughed. "Everyone seems to have an opinion. I think it's a great situation: it's a controversy without a scandal. What could be more ideal?"

Lana said that she reverted to her more natural shade for a good reason: her two pictures in Europe called for a dark-haired girl. In "The Flame and the Flesh" she plays a fiery Italian girl, a part very unlike the usual Lana Turner role. She wears one suit through the film. In "Betrayed" she plays a Dutch spy who dyes her hair dark.

Lana is changed in more ways than her hair. She returned from her 10 months in Europe with a new husband and a new attitude toward life. She seems happier and more at ease than I have ever seen her.

"The life of a movie star is great, except for all the bother that goes with it," she reflected. "I love the work; there's nothing more exciting than getting into a role that presents a challenge.

"It's the other stuff that can make you miserable. The things that have been said and printed about me—I'd have to be eight different people to do all the things I'm supposed to have done.

"I used to worry a great deal about such things. But now I have a different attitude. I figure this way: the only person you have to answer to is the one you face in the mirror every morning. If you yourself know that you have done what is right, that's all you have to worry about."

She added that she and her handsome husband, Lex Barker, are aiming to lead a quiet life. "We stay home a great deal," she said. "We pass up the parties that look as though they might turn into brawls. We're happy to let the others have the front pages."

Marion Junior Service Guild Elects Officers

New officers, headed by Mrs. Richard Morgan as president, were elected when the Junior Service Guild of Marion County met recently at the YMCA. Dinner was followed by the meeting and 70 members were present.

Named to serve with Mrs. Morgan were Mrs. William Guthery, first vice president; Mrs. Carl Knirk, second vice president; Mrs. John Pickerel, recording secretary; Mrs. Roger Morgan, corresponding secretary; Mrs. James McGlew, treasurer.

They will assume offices in June, this year, and serve through June, 1956.

Mrs. Charles Harmon is the current president.

The community arts chairman, Mrs. Donald Schlientz, reported on progress of the Good Grooming Class and the Story Hour at the Marion County Children's Home. Chairmen of the projects are Mrs. William Merriman and Mrs. Lester Van Dommelen, respectively. Mrs. Frederick Merchant, ways and means chairman, reported a profit of $4,821.60 realized from the Follies of 1953, presented Nov. 5-6. This event each year enables the Guild to carry on its many charitable projects.

A guest speaker at the meeting was Charles Harmon, president of the Marion city board of education. His talk concerned the Guild kindergarten work and he also discussed the future of kindergartens in the public schools. He was introduced by Mrs. Robert Kraner, welfare chairman.

Members also spent some time discussing plans for a guild Day, a day which will be set aside each month for all committee meetings and a social hour.

Attractive Morning Clothes Important

They'll Make Bigger Hit With Husbands Than Fancy Hats, Gowns

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Beauty Editor

LOVE, LOVE LOVE TV star Marjorie Reynolds wearing her new peignoir and husband John Haften are romantic even at breakfast

A pretty breakfast outfit is more important than a frivolous hat in holding your husband So says lovely Marjorie Reynolds TV star formerly of the movies on a visit to New York Says she

"Women worry about owning cocktail dresses evening gowns and pretty hats But when it comes to morning clothes they are willing to shuffle around in any old thing An attractive breakfast wardrobe would go a long way in keeping romance alive

MARJORIE BELIEVES too many women concentrate on dressing for girl friends neighbors and bridge party companions instead of their husbands She explains

'Why do women break the bank to buy silly hats their husbands detest just to impress Mrs Jones? I used to make that mistake But this shopping trip has been different I spent a few dollars on a couple of smart hat-bar numbers and put the rest of my hat budget into a fancy nylon peignoir '

Marjorie s husband John Haften a Hollywood picture cutter and former movie star, grinned and confirmed his wife s opinion that the frothy negligee was a big improvement over her old tired bathrobe

MARJORIE the glamorous Mom of The Life of Riley TV show thinks every wife should look so attractive at breakfast that her husband hates to go to work She suggests that hair and face should be completely groomed and that sloppy bedroom slippers be discarded in favor of dainty high heeled footgear John interrupts to say

'Thank heavens Marjorie isn t the morning curlers type "

"Curlers ruin lots of marriages " says Marjorie 'A woman would have been appalled in courtship days if her swain saw her in an ugly hair rig But as soon as she gets her man she lets herself go

WOMEN MISS A good bet if they don t breakfast with their husbands And every smart woman according to Marjorie should plan a half hour relaxation session with her husband before dinner. Says she

'Even if you don t drink cocktails sit down and have a glass of fruit juice with him while he sips his before dinner aperitif If he doesn t imbibe, serve the first course — cheese and crackers soup juice or whatever — in the living room Try to wean your husband from the idea that dinner should be waiting on the table when he gets home

AFTER BLEACHING her hair for fifteen years Marjorie finally let the grey through Her husband loves it and it hasn't hurt her television popularity The fans still write in to tell her she s much too young to be Ma Riley

It s much smarter to act your age she says Older girls are having a heyday she reminds us The loveliest women in Hollywood include Irene Dunne Joan Crawford Marlene Dietrich and movie stars of their era Marjorie thinks that women in those days applied common sense to their beauty program instead of stressing oomph ', the fleeting quality of frivolous youth so popular today

Room for Teacher 'Escape' Suggested

PHILADELPHIA (UP) — School kids who think they have problems ought to give a thought to their teachers

Walter D Cocking editor of the School Executive thinks an escape room where harassed mentors can flee occasionally from their nerve wracking work should be an essential part of every new school

Cocking told a meeting of the Eastern Division of Pennsylvania School Administrators that such sanctums would provide a pleasant place for weary teachers to let their hair down ' and relax after suffering through their various occupational ordeals

The editor said such a room would promote better teacher relations and provide for a comfortable meeting place with parents to discuss junior s progress without tension

But Cocking pointed out that the room's major value would be as a quiet place to recoup 'after sitting on the lid of incipient revolution for hours '

Nothing is so wearing as being with people continuously for six hours at a time Cocking observed

Reader's Digest Reports:
ONLY NEW COLGATE DENTAL CREAM
with Miracle Anti-Enzyme Ingredient GARDOL*
HAS THE CLINICAL PROOF!
(Proof that Brings New Hope to Millions for LIFETIME PROTECTION AGAINST TOOTH DECAY)

5 QUICK FACTS FROM THE READER'S DIGEST ARTICLE
"What About Anti-Enzyme Toothpastes?" December, 1953

1. Reader's Digest says—The most effective anti-enzyme toothpaste ingredient tested was developed in the Colgate-Palmolive Company laboratories.
(It's Colgate's miracle ingredient Gardol (Sodium N-Lauroyl Sarcosinate)—found in no other leading toothpaste!)
2. Reader's Digest says—One of the foremost dental authorities in the world proved that this ingredient binds itself effectively to the teeth—holds acid formation below the decay level in 95 per cent of cases tested.
(Unlike ordinary toothpaste ingredients, effective only for minutes, this protection won't rinse off—won't wear off— all day or all night!)
3. Reader's Digest says—Even 12 hours after brushing, this new Colgate anti-enzyme discovery continues to guard against the enzymes that cause tooth decay.
(Thus, just daily morning and night brushings guard against decay-causing enzymes every minute of the day and night!)
4. Reader's Digest says—In clinical tests, supervised by leading dental authorities—for a full year—people who used ordinary toothpastes averaged almost two and a half times more new cavities than those who used New Colgate Dental Cream with Gardol (Sodium N-Lauroyl Sarcosinate). In fact, of the group using New Colgate's, 4 out of 5 developed no new cavities at all!
(A group of distinguished dentists examined this evidence and agreed—New Colgate Dental Cream with Gardol gives the surest protection against tooth decay ever offered by any toothpaste!)
5. Reader's Digest says—New Colgate Dental Cream is the only toothpaste with clinical proof of its effectiveness in actually reducing the formation of new cavities.

NOW! NEW COLGATE DENTAL CREAM CONTAINS GARDOL (*SODIUM N-LAUROYL SARCOSINATE)
